The BATES MIRROR

1933

Editor-in-Chief, JOHN J. DOBRAVOLSKY
Business Manager, GEORGE R. AUSTIN

PUBLISHED BY THE CLASS OF 1933
BATES COLLEGE, LEWISTON, MAINE

Fred A. Knapp

DEDICATION

The Class of 1933 gratefully dedicates its Year Book to Fred Austin Knapp, Professor of Latin.

His winning character and magnetic personality have been an inspiration to all who have come in contact with him. He will ever be remembered for his scholarly direction, inspiring encouragement, and friendly smile

The Editors present the 1933 Mirror with the sincere conviction that it will crystallize the spirit of Bates and will symbolize many happy experiences and many valued associations. When remembrances fade, may this Year Book revive the joy and seriousness of a gloriously eventful past —and may it recall the sacred traditions of our Alma Mater

Arnold G. Adams, B.S.

18 Morgan Street
Worcester, Massachusetts

A DAM Smart track man!

Born November 14, 1910; Worcester South High School; Major, Mathematics; Track, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Outing Club, Junior Body, 2, 3, 4; Athletic Council, 3, 4; President Athletic Association, 4; Student Council, 3, 4, Vice President, 4; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Chairman Back to Bates Night, 4; President of Class, 3; Garnet Key, 2, College Club; Proctor, Roger Williams Hall, 4.

Arn, our Olympic star, has done more than any other individual in the class to put Bates on the map.

Aren't you sorry that you were busy that evening back in January 1932? Best Wishes, "Jim"

Bertram James Antine, A.B.

6 Bow Street
Taunton, Massachusetts

Born June 26, 1911; Taunton High School; Major, Economics; Politics Club, 3, Vice President, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Tennis, 1, 2, 3, 4; State Doubles Championship, 3; Delegate to Model League of Nations at Brown, 3; Baseball, 1; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Band, 3.

Bert certainly knows his government. Ask him anything about elections, prohibition, or the banking situation and he'll be glad to tell you. Then too, he is the Tilden of the class.

Marjorie Ruth Arlington, A.B.

56 Elm Street
Lewiston, Maine

Born June 1, 1911; Jordan High School; Major, English; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, 4; Lambda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Member of Championship Soccer Team, 1; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4.

Marge is the girl with the infectious giggle. It even helped bring down the big light in the Locker Building sophomore year; in classes it pops out when serious-minded professors expect it least. We hope you always will keep it, Marge.

Helen Kathryn Ashe, A.B.

Groveton, New Hampshire

Born June 19, 1911; Groveton High School; Major, German; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. Financial Committee, 1; Y. W. World Fellowship Committee, 2, 3; Y. W. Social Committee, 4; Der Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Student Reporter, 2, 3; Debating Editor, 4; Class Vice President, 4; Volleyball, 1, 2; Senior Formal Committee, 4; Library Assistant, 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Day Committee.

From "Davis, Barnes, and others," for an innocent Freshman to some unheard-of tome for a Senior's thesis, Helen knows her books. Four years' faithful work in the library prove her to be—not a book-worm—but an exceedingly efficient and obliging librarian.

Dagmar Elizabeth Augustinus, A.B.

81 Dennett Street

Portsmouth, New Hampshire

Born November 12, 1912; Manchester High School; Major Sociology and Economics; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. Social Service Committee, 2; Outing Club, Junior Body, 2, Board of Directors, 3, 4; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, Board, 4; Alethea, 2, 3, Secretary-Treasurer, 2; Der Deutsche Verein, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Prize Debate; Mirror Board, Social Editor, 4; Sociology Assistant, 4; Class Day Committee.

"How's your ankle, Diggs?" A little thing like a broken ankle never bothers Diggs; and now that it's all right she can get more things done than ever. All set for a mountain climb? Let's go.

George Russell Austin, A.B.

East Greenwich, Rhode Island

Born June 19, 1911; North Kingstown High School; Major, Economics; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Choir, 1, 2, 3, 4, Assistant Organist, 2, 3, 4; Mcfarlane Club 4; Pop Concert Committee, 3, 4; Heelers, 1; English 4-A Players, 2, 3, 4, Stage Manager, 3, President, 4; Sophomore Prize Debate; Junior Exhibition; Ivy Day Speaker; Student Staff, 1, 2; Business Manager of Mirror; College Club; Class Day Speaker.

One of the most versatile members of our class, George is a leader in any field he enters. The first of the "Unholy Three."

Josephine F. Barnett, A.B.

6 Washington Street

Penacook, New Hampshire

Born December 25, 1910; Penacook High School; Major, Sociology; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, Board, 4; Christian Service Club, 2, 3, 4; Women's Student Government 1, 2, 3, 4.

Where's Jo? Over at the lab with her cats and dogfish. Animals are not here only forte. She won't refuse to further her social work by visiting anywhere, and even jails can't phaze her. Her ability on skis is outstanding, too. Such a tiny person to be filled with such a variety of interest!

Leo James Barry, A.B.

59 High Street

Danvers, Massachusetts

"Is that right"

Born August 10, 1911; Danvers High School; Major, English; Class Treasurer, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4, Secretary, 4; Manager of Sophomore Prize Debate; Hockey, 1, 2; Carnival Hop Committee, 4; Vocational Banquet Committee, 4; Spofford Club, 3, 4; Senior Dance Committee; Student Staff, 3, 4; Class Day Chairman.

Leo's quiet and unassuming efficiency, coupled with a fine sense of humor, mark him as one of the most popular boys in the class.

Elwood Eugene Beane, A.B.

12 Mount Vernon Street
Gardiner, Maine

Born September 19, 1911; Gardiner High School; Major, History and Government; Orphic Society, 1 ,2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Cab-driver" Beane, as he is known to some of the boys, never failed to pick up a car-full of passengers even when on his way to the Strand or the Empire.

Vincent Belleau, A.B.

Born October 14, 1911; Edward Little High School; Major, Government; Politics Club, 3, President, 4; Bates Student Staff, 1, 2, 3, Sports Editor, 4; Manager of Hockey, 3, 4; Spofford Club, 4; Varsity Club, 3, 4.

Vin's proficiency in journalism and politics prove him to be an executive in the making. So interested was he in newspaper work that he even dressed and walked like a typical newspaper man.

Ruth Trowbridge Benham, A.B.

84 Rockwell Avenue
Naugatuck, Connecticut

Born December 31, 1910; Naugatuck High School; Major, English; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Heelers Club, 1, President, 4; 4-A Players, 2, 3, 4, Secretary, 3, Vice President, 4; Student, 2, 3; Mirror Board; Spofford, 2, 3; "B" Sweater, 3; W. A. A. cup, 4; Phi Beta Kappa; Publishing Association, 2, 3; English Assistant, 4; Hockey, 2, 3, 4; Soccer, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 3; Baseball, 1 2 3; Sophomore Hop Committee; Junior Girls' Dance Committee; Junior Exhibition, First Prize.

No matter where it is, classroom, Little Theatre, Chase Hall, or Rand Hall field, Bennie is one of the first.

Franklin Shaw Berkover, B.S.

12 Walnut Street
Taunton, Massachusetts

"That is very goo-ed."

Born March 25, 1911; Taunton High School; Major, Biology; Jordan Scientific Society, 3, 4; Student Staff, 3, 4; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

We'll never forget Berkie and his contagious smile, nor his kindness to dumb animals—his care and solicitude in making his flies comfortable this winter prove our point.

Herbert Odde Berry, B.S.

75 Marion Road
Watertown, Massachusetts
"Staren?"

Born January 11, 1911; Huntington School; Major, Physics; Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Garnet Key, 2; Jordan Scientific, 3, 4; Athletic Council, 3, 4; Varsrity Club, 2, 3, President, 4; Athletic Association, 3, Vice President, 4; College Club; Student Council, 4; Assistant in Physical Education and Geology.

Herb, our all-round athlete and an excellent student, has been in the campus limelight ever since his freshman year.

Luis Donald Bond, A.B.

154 East Fifth Street
Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania

Born November 18, 1912; Tilton School; Major, Bibical Literature; Der Deutsche Verein. 2, 3, President, 4; Cosmos Club, 1, 2, Treasurer, 3; Christian Service Club, 4; Phil-Hellenic Club, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet. 3, President, 4; Council on Religion, 4; Delta Phi Alpha, 3, 4; Ivy Day and Class Day Speaker; Greek Play.

"Y" must you sing in the shower by the hour? Don's Favourite theme songs are "Toreador" and "Nearer My God to Thee."

Marjorie Adelaide Boothby, A.B.

North Conway, New Hampshire

Born November 18, 1911; Kennett High School, Conway; Major, Mathematics; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Undergraduate Representative in Y. W. Cabinet, 3; Chairman Membership Committee, 3; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Coach in Track, 4; Prize Debate, 1; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; Geology Assistant, 4; Play Day Committee, 3, 4; Captain Winter Sports, 3; Numera's, 2; Greek Play.

Now off campus now on, Marje took care of Joan and Betty Jean to perfection. Her infant charges were absolute prodigies, due to the fact that Marjie always taught them the intricacies of mathematics to rest their minds.

Frances Lucretia Brackett, A.B.

158 Washington Street
Canton, Massachusetts

Born August 1, 1911; Canton High School; Transfer from Radcliffe College, 1930-1931; Major, Sociology and Economics; President of W. A. A., 4; Vice President of W. A. A., 3; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; Women's Politics Club, 4; Junior Cabaret Committee, 3; Numerals, 3; White Sweater, 3; W. A. A. Cup, 4; Hockey, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 3; Basehall, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Soccer, 2, 3; Representative to Play Day at Colby 3; Representative to Play Day at U. of N. H., 4.

Are we glad we got Fran from Radcliffe! Rand answers, "Absolutely."

Reynold Edward Burch, B.S.

20 Clinton Street
Gardiner, Maine
"Buster"

Born October 3, 1910; Gardiner High School; Major, Chemistry; Football, 1; Track, 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Lawrance Chemical Society, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Greek Play.

Bus spent most of his time in the labs in Carnegie and in Hedge. May he continue to "top the hurdles" in years to come.

Frank Hackett Byron, A.B.

49 Denison Street
Auburn, Maine

Born September 6 1911; Edward Little High School; Major, Economics; Politics Club, 4; Glee Club, 4; Y. M. C. A.. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Staff, 3, 4; Phi Beta Kappa; Assistant in Economics.

Mathematician and economist de luxe, Frank is a valuable asset to the community—although he lives in the "glorified suburb" or Lewiston.

Paul Nathaniel Carpenter, B.S.

Mars Hill, Maine

Born June 9, 1910; Aroostook Central Institute; Major, Chemistry; Cross Country, 1, 3, 4; Track, 1, 2, 3; Winter Sports, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4, Director of Winter Sports, 3, 4, President, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Band, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Lawrance Chemical Society, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Mirror Board, 4; College Club.

Paul has shown remarkable versatility for a little fellow. In spite of the opposition of the weather man, he has proved himself a good leader of the winter sports team.

Mildred Mary Carrier, A.B.

Lisbon Falls, Maine

Born June 2, 1911; Lisbon Falls High School; Major, Latin and French; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Alethea, 2, 3; Spofford, 4; La Petite Academie, 3, 4; Sodalitas Latina, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 4; Phi Sigma Iota, 4; Phi Beta Kappa; Assistant in Latin; General Scholarship Prize, 3.

We take our hats off to Mil—a French and Latin major, she is almost tri-linguist. But we almost forgot Greek. Little wonder that after her four years of hard work she earned those Greek letters above.

Rebecca Williamson Carter, A.B.

Bethel, Maine

Born February 22, 1913; Gould Academy; Major, English; English 4-A Players, 4; Women's Student Government Board, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 3; Delegate at N. E. Conference of Women's Student Gov't, 4; Freshman Prize Debate, 1; Junior Exhibition, 3; Ivy Day Speaker, 3; Debating Council, 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Debating, 1, 2, 3, 4; Chairman Y. W. C. A. Bazaar, 4; Delta Sigma Rho; Class Day Comittee.

A delightful imagination in her creative writing and excellent debating ability combine to make Becky a puzzler to the professors. A good sport, a lover of literature, Becky is a delightful person to know.

Alice Louise Chandler, A.B.

81 Congress Street

Portland, Maine

Born October 11, 1911; Portland High School; Major, Latin; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Sodalitas Latina, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 4; House Council, 2; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4.

Red hair and primness—they'e not supposed to go well together, but those in the dorm know that Al is full of pranks that warrant the color of her hair. Conscientious and quiet, red-headed and ready for a joke—that's Al.

J. Richard Clemons, B.S.

39 Court Street

Machias, Maine

Born June 1, 1912; Machias High School; Major, Chemistry; Lawrance Chemical Society, 3, 4,President, 4; Football, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 3, 4, Treasurer, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; College Club; Assistant in Chemistry.

We know Dick for his good looks and excellent sense of humor. His summers spent on the beaches of New Jersey helped him to gain all-state bonors in football. And the reporters call him "Big Jim."

Constance Roper Conant, A.B.

579 Main Street

Woburn, Massachusetts

Born May 15, 1913; Woburn High School; Major, German; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Der Deutscher Verein, 4; Delta Phi Alpha, 4; Assistant in German and Spanish, 4; Honor Student in German, 4; Phi Beta Kappa; Baseball, 2, 3, 4; Hockey, 3.

Being the youngest in the class couldn't daunt our Connie. She worked right along behind that ever-ready smile of hers and picked her place among the honors. She's an all-around girl too—making as big a hit on the hockey field as when presiding over a card party on Sunday morning.

Roger Conant Crafts, B.S.

134 Nichols Street
Lewiston, Maine

The trouble with you is . . ."

Born January 26, 1911; Jordan High School; Major, Biology; Band, 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Marshall, 1, 2; Ivy Day Marshall; Jordan Scientific, 3, 4; Macfarlane Club, 3, 4; Publishing Association, 3, 4, President, 4; Chairman of Senior Formal; Assistant in Biology; Class Day Marshall.

Although Ruth-less at times, Roger is always easy to get along with, and is endowed with one of the best dispositions in the class. He has two favorite corners on campus—one at Carnegie and one in Chase Hall.

Roland Frederick Cronkhite, B.S.

Mars Hill, Maine

Born July 20, 1912; Aroostook Central Institute; Major, Chemistry; Lawrance Chemical Society, 3, 4; Cross Country, 1; Track, 1, 2; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4.

After breaking his leg and burning his hand, Rolly finally gave up his infirmary job last year, and has since devoted all his time to the Chem. lab. Nevertheless, he found time to take in a show or two and keep up his supply of jokes.

John Alden Curtis, A.B.

34 Boylston Street
Pittsfield, Massachusetts

Born December 8, 1909; Pittsfield High School; Major, English; President of Class, 1; Drum Major of Band, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; English 4-A Players, 2, 3, 4; Chairman of Sophomore Hop; Sophomore Prize Speaking, First Prize; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, 2, 3; Winter Sports, 1, 2, 3, 4; Macfarlane Club, 2; Mirror Board, 4; Track, 1; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4, Junior Body, 4; Toastmaster, Ivy Day, 3; Greek Play.

"Curtis-y makes the gentleman." Jack's main interests are centered in photography and in a certain co-ed.

Mavis Clare Curtiss, A.B.

46 Broad Street
Meriden, Connecticut

Born August 18, 1911; Meriden High School; Major, English; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Government Board, 1, 2; Der Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Delta Phi Alpha, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball, 1, 2, 3, Captain, 2; Soccer, 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Numerals.

Mave, if you should set up a cafeteria we'll bet you could feed a King royally. For such a "quiet" one you certainly can shine socially, athletically, and intellectually, when called upon.

Charlotte Cutts, A.B.

220 College Street
Lewiston, Maine

Born December 26, 1912; Jordan High School; Major, English; Glee Club, 1, 2; Macfarlane Club, 3; Student Government Board, 2; La Petite Academie, 2, 3, 4, Secretary, 4; Outing Club, Junior Body, 3, 4; Choir, 1, 2, 3, 4; Heeler's Club, 3 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; English 4-A Players, 4; Garnet Staff, 3, Editor, 4; Sophomore Hop Committee, 2; Carnival Hop Committee, 3, 4; Sweater, 3; Ivy Day Speaker; Phi Sigma Iota, 4; Phi Beta Kappa; Honor Student in English, 4; Mirror Board; W. A. A.

Charlotte is the personification of an ideal co-ed, with her sparkling wit, intellectual pursuits, athletic ability and good looks. And we'll never forget her as Carnival Queen.

George Royce Dean, B.S.

Norway, Maine

Born Decemher 16, 1910; South Paris High School; Major, Geology; Baseball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Geology; Outing Cluh, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Baseball scribes know him as "Royal Dean." Being assistant in Geology did not prevent him from making a mark in his studies and on the baseball diamond.

Roger Langer Derby, A.B.

100 Church Street
Winchester, Massachusetts
"Dube"

Born February 2, 1911; Winchester High School; Major, History and Government; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Cluh, 1, 2, 3, 4; Football, 1, 2; Basketball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Staff, 2, 3.

Evidently Roger has a convincing line, even through the mails, as was shown by the numher of letters he used to receive every morning. A combination of good student and social lion, Roger is an interesting fellow to know.

Dorothy Helen Diggery, A.B.

12 East Street
Sanford, Maine

Born February 26, 1912; Sanford High School; Major, French; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; La Petite Academie, 3, 4, Treasurer, 4; Phi Sigma Iota, 4, Secretary, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; Hockey, 2; Soccer, 2; Baseball, 1, 2; Alethea, 2, 3; Phi Beta Kappa.

Dot's the girl who came here to get an education; and between assisting in Education and Co-education, it certainly looks as if she found it. Witness the Greek letters above.

John Joseph Dobravolsky, A.B.

50 Staniford Street
Boston, Massachusetts
"You're not so bad yourself"

Born September 21, 1911; Medford High School; Major, English and French; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3; Freshman Football; Varsity Football, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 4; Sophomore Hop Committee; Spofford Club, 2, 3, 4; La Petite Academie, 4; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Treasurer of Phi Sigma Iota, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Chairman, Ivy Hop Committee; Class Day Speaker; Commencement Hop Committee; Athletic Editor of Bates Alumnus, 4; Editor-in-chief of the Mirror.

J. Frederick Donald, A.B.

9 Lincoln Street
Houlton, Maine

Born November 5, 1910; Houlton High School; Occidental College, 1; Major, History and Government; Band, 2, 3, 4, Conductor, 4; Orphic, 3, 4; Macfarlane Club, 3, 4; Little Symphony, 2, 3; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, Director of Winter Carnival, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Sophomore Debate.

Fred's musical ability and executive skill have enabled him to assume one of the leading places in our college activities. His good fellowship and fine sense of humor have won him many friends.

Beatrice Patricia Dumais, A.B.

22 Bartlett Street
Lewiston, Maine

Born August 22, 1913; Jordan High School; Major, French; Lambda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Publicity Committee Y. W., 2, 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; Publicity Committee Harvest Hop, 2; La Petite Academie, 3, 4; Publicity Committee Tea Dance, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer Ramsdell Scientific, 4; Student Staff, 3, 4; Art Editor, Mirror, 4; Phi Sigma Iota, 4.

A little body with artistic hands, that's Bea. Many of her posters have graced our walls, and her brush was always ready to help in putting across some new campaign.

Robert James Eggleton, Jr., B.S.

Bucks Hill
Waterbury, Connecticut
"Of course this isn't—or anything."

Born January 28, 1910; Crosby High School; Major, Physics; Y.M.C.A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball, 2; Jordan Scientific, 4; Assistant in Physics.

Bob's fine collection of snapshots is the envy of all amateur photographers. For an all-around good fellow no better example in the class can be found.

Irving Edward Fireman, B.S.

28 Floyd Street
Dorchester, Massachusetts

Born August 6, 1908; Norwood High School; Major, Geology; Foothall, 2, 3, 4; Baseball, 2, 3, 4; Track, 1, 2, 4; Basketball, 1, 2; Varsity Club; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Ivr" will never be forgotten for his mirth-provoking ability wherever he went. The small and lively "Firehorse" proved his worth in track, baseball and foothall. His pent-house has been a popular gathering-place for many "bridge" parties, and he had more friends down-town than the mayor.

Donald Willis Fitz, B.S.

36 Nichlos Street
Lewiston, Maine
"Bike"

Born October 17, 1911; Jordan High School; Major, Mathematics; Foothall, 1; Prize Speaking Committee, 1; Sophomore Hop Committee; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Ivy Hop Committee; Mirror Board; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4.

Facility on the dance floor, a friendly disposition, a hearty laugh combined with a good stock of jokes, and, above all, a willingness to work made Don welcome in all fields of activity. In fact, Don Fitz anywhere.

Francis Daniel Flynn, Jr., A.B.

24 King Street
Dorchester, Massachusetts

"Lord Chesterflynn de Benoits."
When Bates men are dressed better, Flynn will dress them.
When Bates men are fed better, Flynn will feed them.

Pauline Margaret Frew, A.B.

45 Urquhart Street
Rumford, Maine

Born Octoher 12, 1911; Stephens High School; Major, German; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Der Deutsche Verein, 4; House Council, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Soccer, 2; Volley Ball, 1.

"Telephone for Polly Frew!"
"Letters and telegrams for Polly Frew!"
And between this and her rapid firing sense of humor we're kept humping. "Frewlein" and her jokes will not soon be forgotten.

Richard Wight Genthner, A.B.

Guilford, Maine

"That's an architectural nightmare."

Born November 29, 1909; Hebron Academy; Major, French; Y.M.C.A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Petite Academie, 3, 4.

Dick's ambition is to become a school-teacher. He is intensely interested in his studies, interlining all of his books religiously, and is an authority on French grammar usage. It is rumored that he goes around with a girl who graduated two years ago as a French major, with whom he speaks only in French.

Walter Ludwig Gerke, B.S.

417 Brood Street

Forrestville, Connecticut

Born October 12, 1910; Plainville High School; Major, Biology; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Heelers, 1; English 4-A Players, 2, 3, 4, Stage Manager, 4; Bates Student 2; Tennis Manager, 4; Varsity Club, 4; Pop Concert Committee, 4.

Walt's ability as stage manager, as well as his agility in perching on rafters, has made him indispensible to the 4-A players. One of the "Unholy Three."

Phyllis Louise Gilman, A.B.

9 Myrtle Street

Auburn, Maine

Born April 18, 1912; Edward Little High School; Major, Latin; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2; Lambda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4, Treasurer, 4; Macfarlane, 2, 3, 4; Der Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Delta Phi Alpha, 3, 4; Sodalitas Latina, 4, Secretary-Treasurer, 4; Girls' Glee Club, 4.

You're quiet, Phil, but we've found you out. Your ability and willingness to play the piano have made you a valuable addition to any party.

Samuel Charles Gilman, A.B.

141 Ruthven Street

We like your wil'ingness to work, Marje; we like your sense of humor; and all the boys pronounce you a fine dancer.

A. Richmond Gorham, B.S.

21 High Street
Bristol, Rhode Island
"Well I don't know about that."

Born August 13, 1910; Colt Memorial High School; Major, Biology; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 2, 3, 4; Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Track, 2; Jordan Scientific, 4.

"Tubby" is perhaps the most easy-going fellow in the class. Yet you'll find him more than willing to join in any argument. One boy who was ever late at football practice and got away with it.

Thomas Joseph Gormley, Jr., B.S.

262 High Street
Meriden, Connecticut
"Come here and look at this slide."

Born August 18, 1909; Meriden High School; Major, Biology; Band, 2, 3; Orchestra, 1, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1; Assistant in Biology, 4; Leader of "Bob-cats", 4; Garnet Revellers, 2, 3.

Tom has two possibilities for the future: an M.D. or a job with Guy Lombardo.

Harold Francis Goulston, B.S.

Al can easily claim the distinction of being the Beau Brummel of the campus; to all knowledge he has worn a sweater but once. Between his work in the lab and his week-ends at home, Harold was kept pretty busy. "Call me Al."

Hollis S. Greenlaw, A.B.

142 Main Street
Fairfield, Maine

Born February 18, 1909; Princeton High School; Major, Sociology; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Band, 1, 2.

"P'tarius? What's that? Gee, I never heard him assign that. Is it hard?"

Clayton Howard Hall, A.B.

10 Middle Street
Farmington, Maine

Born January 21, 1910; Brewer High School; Major, Biblical Literature; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Track, 1, 2, 3, 4; Cosmos Club, 1, 2, 3; Christian Service Club, 4.

"For me there can be only one sport—track."

Donald Pomeroy Ham, B.S.

"My little bady is aweary of this great world."

Born July 1, 1908; Major, Biology; Jordan Scientific Society, President, 4; Orchestra, 4; Glee Club, 1; Band, 1, 2, 3; Assistant in Biology, 4.

For a jolly, good-natured fellow, no better example can he found than "Don." And he considered himself Ollie Cutt's best P. T. student!

Helen Etta Hamlin, A.B.

Main Street
Sanford, Maine

Born November 24, 1912; Sanford High School; Major, French; Alethea, 2, 3; La Petite Academie, 2, 3, 4; Ivy Day Committee, 3; Debating Council, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Debating, 3, 4; Phi Sigma Iota, 4; Delta Sigma Rho, 4; Phi Beta Kappa, 4; Student Government Board, 4; Assistant in French, 4; Class Day Speaker.

"Jazz" is one of our best and most versatile students. It is rumored that on one occasion she drove a well-fortified Mr. Quimby to books in a story-swapping contest.

Warren Alvah Harrington, B.S.

17 Salem Street
Andover, Massachusetts
"Prexie"

Born February 7, 1910; New Hampton High School; Major, Chemistry; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4.

Warren is the type of fellow that is sure to take things easy. Those who know him real well will remember him for his choice use of expletives during a game of bridge.

Martha Phoenix Harris, A.B.

10 Haskell Street
Auburn, Maine

Born June 21, 1912; Edward Little High School; Major, Mathematics; Lambda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Numerals, 2; Sweater, 3.

We expect to see your name on the Olympics list some year, Martha. You certainly can help your team along whether in hockey, soccer, volley ball, or tennis. And what's more, we hear you have a scientific mind too.

Paul Hayden, B.S.

Box 64
Gatun, Canal Zone

Though she begins at the very last minute, Holly always gets there on time. With her brown eyes and that orange beret cocked at a military angle, Holly was always a cheerful figure to meet on campus.

Lyman Holman, B.S.

Dixfield, Maine

Born April 20, 1908; Bridgton Academy; Major, Physics; Assistant Manager of Cross Country, 3, Manager, 4; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific, 3, 4; Baseball, 4.

"A baseball game? Where? Wait, I'll be right with you." And the first remembrance we have of him is when he was swinging fists in that Frosh-Soph scrap.

Thomas Barr Hoxie, B.S.

22 Cedar Street
Belfast, Maine
"Have you got an extra . . . "

Born October 4, 1910; Crosby High School; Major, Chemistry; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Society, 4.

T. B. is one of the illustrious members of that famous class of nineteen thirty-two and one-half. Among his accomplishments he is a waiter whose promptness and willingness to get seconds was appreciated by all of us who ate at Zero's.

Amy Alma Irish, A.B.

57 Chestnut Street
Bath, Maine

Born January 23, 1913; Morse High School; Major, English; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, Industrial Committee, 2, 3; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Alethea, 2, 3; Spofford Club, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 2, 3; Glee Club, 3, 4, Secretary, 4; Choir, 4; Macfarlane Club, 4; Student Staff, 3; Committee of Pop Concert, 4.

Amy and Lucienne have entertained us many times after dinner with their harmonizing. In spite of all distractions in the form of one letter a day, Amy has had time to be a good friend to us all in the dorm.

Frank di Italia, A.B.

Whitehouse
Norfolk, Connecticut
"D'jever hear this one?"

Born November 22,, 1911; The Gilbert School; Major, Mathematics; Basketball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball, 1, 2, 3; Track, 3; Varsity Club, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4.

A sweet end on the football team, a boy with the most hearty of laughs, and a fellow who knew two new jokes every day—although we admit most of them had no point.

Lucile Curtis Jack, A.B.

Main Street
Lisbon Falls, Maine

Born February 1, 1912; Lisbon Falls High School; Major, History and Government; Class Officer, 3; Politics Club, 3, 4; Student Government, 3, President, 4; House Council, 2, 3, Secretary, 2, President 3; Class Debates, 1, 2; Varsity Debating, 2; Debating Council, 2, 3, 4; President of N. We like Bob for his cheery "hello" and his friendly smile—and we hope he will fulfill his ambition in becoming a successful M. D.

Harold Michael Karkos, A.B.

9 Depot Street
Wilton, Maine
"The Commons' Choice."

Born March 26, 1911; Wilton Academy; Major, English; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Manager of Baseball, 4; Assistant in History, 4; Spofford Club, 4; Varsity Club, 4; Tennis, 1, 2, 3; Ivy Day Committee; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Mike" showed unusual ability not only in the classroom but on the basketball floor as well. His caustic comments in an English class were worth remembering.

Joseph Arnold Kelly, A.B.

2 Ives Street
Beverly, Massachusetts
"He's an old smoothy"

Born July 13, 1911; Beverly High School; Major, Economics; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Garnet Key, Treasurer; Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Track, 1, 2; Varsity Club, 4; Greek Play.

For four years Joe has been the social light of the class—and why not, with his good looks and pleasing personality?

Harry Emerson Kemp, A.B.

52 Edgeworth Avenue
Portland, Maine

Born December 13, 1910; Deering High School; Major, Biblical Literature; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, Cabinet, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Phil-Hellenic Club, 3, 4, Secretary-Treasurer, 4; Christian Service Club, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 4; Track, 1, 2, Manager, 4; Orchestra, 3; Phi Beta Kappa; Honors Work.

The boys in West Parker were well familiar with Harry's theme song: "I feel like hel—ping some poor soul."

Walter Landis King, B.S.

44 Randolph Avenue
Meriden, Connecticut
"Brud"

Born August 28, 1909; Meriden High School; Major, Physics; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Garnet Key; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Football, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Society, 4; Basehall, 4; Proctor, John Bertram Hall, 4; Commencement Hop Committee.

"Brud" was a stellar halfback on the gridiron and a flashy forward on the basketball court—nor has he done so badly on the other side of the campus.

Vincent John Kirby, A.B.

19 Pierce Avenue
Beverly, Massachusetts

Born June 11, 1911; Beverly High School; Major, Latin; Phil-Hellenic, 3, President, 4; Sodalitis Latina, 4; Class Treasurer, 3; Chairman Sophomore Prize Speaking; Chairman Junior Exhibition; Class Pin Committee; Class Day Speaker.

We can enclose Vin's winning smile and pleasing personality within a little Brackett. Every spring found Vin on the way to Martindale with his clubs.

Thelma Lucille Kittredge, A.B.

523 Canal Street

Manchester, New Hampshire

Born August 5, 1911; Manchester High School; Major, English; Spofford Club, 2, 3, President, 4; Debating Council, 2, 3, Secretary, 4; Costume Mistress of 4-A Players, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Chairman of Social Committee, Y. W., 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Senior Girls' Dance Committee, 4; Class Day Speaker.

Thel's one of our best dancers—tap-dancing at Rand, and over at Chase. And she's done an excellent job at the head of the Social Functions Committee of the Y. W.

Clive Dorman Knowles, A.B.

98 Winthrop Street

Roxbury, Massachusetts

"The early bird"

Born February 15, 1910; Boston English High School; Major, Biblical Literature; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, Secretary, 2, Vice President, 3; Student Staff, 2, 3, 4, Editor-in-Chief, 4; Cosmos Club, 2, President, 3; Football, 2, 3, 4; Honors Work, 4; College Club.

"Joe" was ever willing to champion some new cause for the benefit of the campus. His varied accomplishments certainly justify his election to the College Club.

W., 3; Junior Girls' Dance Committee; Ivy Hop Committee; Chairman Senior Girls' Dance; Chase Hall Dance Committee, 4; Politics Club, 3, 4.

Even majoring in History and Government couldn't make Pal downhearted. Or perhaps it was her study in co-education that added to her stock of jokes.

Elizabeth Ellen Lord, A.B.

4 Park Street

Sanford, Maine

Born November 18, 1911; Sanford High School; Major, French; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Chairman Publicity Committee of Y. W., 3, 4; La Petite Academie, 3, 4; Phi Sigma Iota, 4; Assistant Art Editor, Mirror, 3; Art Editor, Mirror, 4; Member Chase Hall Dance Committee, 4; Gift Committee, 4; Senior Girls' Dance Committee, 4; Sophomore Hop Committee; Numerals, 3; Assistant in French, 4; Greek Play.

Lee has starred over at Chase Hall in two different ways; her neat and striking posters have advertised the formals on the bulletin board, and the boys pronounce her an excellent dancer.

Eugene Barrows McAllister, A.B.

Buxton, Maine

"Jimminy Crickets"

Born October 19, 1911; Gorham High School; Major, Biblical Literature; Phil-Hellenic Club, 2, 3, 4; Christian Service Club, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, Cabinet, 4.

"Mac" was a quiet, studious, likable fellow. When some deviltry occurred on the top floor of West, he was sure to be in on it.

Olin John McCarthy, B.S.

7 South Street
Houlton, Maine

"Sleep! that blessed thing beloved from pole to pole"

Born December 21, 1908; Maine Central Institute; Major, Chemistry; Football, 2, 3, 4; Lawrance Chemical Society, 3, 4, Treasurer, 4; Little Symphony, 3, 4; Varsity Club, 4.

As a halfback he was rugged, as a drummer he was fat. "Mac" knows all the latest tunes (and how he can whistle them) as well as the latest jokes. "Oakay" St.

Ralph Herschel McCluskey, B.S.

75 School Street
Houlton, Maine

"Say it ain't so"

Born October 19, 1910; Maine Central Institute; Major, Chemistry; Varsity Club, 2, 3, 4, Vice President, 4; Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Lawrance Chemical Society, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 2, 3; Assistant in Chemistry, 3.

Perhaps no one was better liked and admired on campus than Ralph. We'll remember his work on the gridiron and on the ice—as well as his famous "leave of absence." Voted the class woman-hater.

Elizabeth Dain McGrath, A.B.

677 Washington Street
Bath, Maine

Born August 10, 1912; Morse High School; Major, German; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary Y. W., 2; Chairman Social Service Committee Y. W., 4; Proctor-Whittier House, 3; Deutsche Verein, 2, 3, 4; Delta Phi Alpha, 3, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 3, 4; Spofford, 3; Sodalitas Latinas, 4.

A laugh rang out in Rand Hall. It was probably Betty—good natured, always ready for a good time. A fine student, a good sport, and a true friend.

Rosamond Stanwood Melcher, A.B.

55 Mitchell Road
South Portland, Maine

Born October 16, 1910; South Portland High School; Major, Mathematics; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4, Director of Winter Carnival, 3, 4; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, Secretary, 2, Manager of Volley Ball and Archery, 3, Senior Representative and Treasurer, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Mirror Board, 4; Commencement Hop Committee.

Be it hockey, soccer, or basketball, Ronnie was always ready for a good game—and how she tackled those math problems. All this, though she carried an extra course in co-education.

Gus Merrill

Walter Cushman Merrill, B.S.

15 Beacon Street
Danvers, Massachusetts
"Hi, Babe"

Born March 22, 1909; Holderness School; Major, Biology; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Society, 3, 4; Baseball, 1, 3, 4; Class Basketball, 1, 3; Varsity Club, 4.

Gus is reported to have exchanged four dances at a formal once, but none of us can remember just when it was. His regularity in being taken over by Stevens in cribbage is only exceeded by the regularity of his visits to Reedville.

Florence Whitman Merry, A.B.

140 Union Street
Auburn, Maine

Born September 15, 1911; Edward Little High School; Major, History and Government; Lambda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Town Committee, Y. W., 1, 2; Women's Politics Club, 4; Outing Club, 1.

If you want to enjoy a rare bit of humor, find Flo. She wasn't hard to find; she always spent much of her time in the library. Always friendly and good-natured—even in Pa Gould's Government class, she could liven up any meeting. We wish her success, always.

Marguerite Morong, A.B.

20 Middle Street
Madison, Maine

Born October 27, 1911; Madison High School; Major, French; Sodalitas Latinas, 4; La Petite Academie, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball, 3; Hockey, 4.

Modest, unassuming, Peg's one of the quiestest members of our class. But her cheerfulness and persistence in work was always there. She was always ready for a game of bridge, too. That she's a good friend and a good student, her room-mate can testify. Here's to the inseparables, Mildred and Marguerite!

Virginia Marguerite Moulton, A.B.

75 Elm Street
Lewiston, Maine

Born January 17, 1912; Jordan High School; Major, English; Freshman Dance Committee; Sophomore Committee on Freshman Initiation; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Industrial Committee, Y. W., 4; Music Committee, Y. W., 2; Y. W. Bazaar Committee, 4; Sophomore Hop Committee; Macfarlane Club, 2, 3, 4; Orphic, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Lambda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4; Alethea, 2, 3, 4, Secretary-Treasurer, 3; Spofford Club, 4.

A fine pianist, a good sport, and a popular town girl, Gin could always be depended on to play for us and with us.

Mildred Greaves Moyer, A.B.

214 Ruhamah Avenue

Syracuse, New York

Born September 8, 1910; Onondaga Valley Academy; Major, Sociology; Freshman Commission; Sophomore Committee on Freshman Initiation; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Social Service Chairman Y. W., 2; Vice President Y. W., 3, President, 4; Cosmos Club, 2, 3; Phil-Hellenic, 2, 3, Vice President, 3; Christian Service, 4, Secretary, 4; Women's Politics, 3, 4; Chairman Maqua Council; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4.

Billie—committee meetings, telephone calls, "Y" work. She was the busiest, and one of the best liked, girls on campus.

Ingeborg von Müller, A.B.

Westenhrügge

Mecklenburg, Germany

Born November 22, 1912; Humanistisches Gymnasium, Doheran, Mackl., 1928-31; University Rostock, 1931; Bates 1931-33; Major, Government and History; Glee Club, 3, 4; Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Phi Sigma Iota; Macfarlane, 3, ; Outing Club, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 3, 4; Greek Play.

Inge came to Bates two years ago. What fun we had explaining the meaning of the latest slang to her! But she's picked it all up now, and more besides. We admire her pluck and willingness to work, and wish her luck at Cornell.

Joseph Francis Murphy, Jr., B.S.

64 Maplewood Street

Watertown, Massachusetts

Born Septemher 12, 1906; Huntington School, Boston; Major, Physics; Football, 1, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 3, Captain, 4; Basehall, 1, 3; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Club, 3, 4; Greek Play.

Some of Joe's favorite expressions were: "Where're ya goin' Herb?" "So help me," and "Do you think my legs are gettin' higger?" A good old Irish athlete who'd rather see a game than eat. And talk ahout your smooth dressers! Joe had more clothes than Cronin and Root.

Beatrice W. Nielson, A.B.

15 Union Street

Enfield, New Hampshire

Born May 20, 1912; Enfield High School; Major, Economics; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Women's Politics Club, Program Committee, 3, President, 4; Spofford, 3, 4; Student Government Board, 4; Assistant in Economics.

Bea's sweet reserve may have haffled many, but underneath she's gay and full of fun. Unusual in her ahility to understand and enjoy Economics, she made us marvel. Correcting papers, conducting Politics Club, or participating in Stu. G. meetings, she always showed good judgement.

Helen Frances O'Brien, A.B.

15 Macdonough Place
Middletown, Connecticut

Born September 4, 1912; Middletown High School; Major, English; Transfer from Trinity College, 1930-31; Lambda Alpha, 2, 3, 4; Spofford Club, 3, 4; Mirror Board, Associate Editor, 4; Deutsche Verein, 4; Y. W. C. A., 2, 3, 4; Senior Girls' Dance Committee, 4; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Commencement Hop Committee; Greek Play.

Your Irish smile and cheerful disposition will never make any enemies for you, Helen. We like your staunch friendliness and your good sportsmanship—and your continual willingness to do your part in all things. Here's luck to you, Helen.

Florence Caroline Ogden, A.B.

51 Buckingham Building

Little needs to be said about Mary. Her sparkling and spontaneous personality speaks for itself. Everyone, on both sides of the campus, counts Mary as a friend.

Clinton Morris Osborn, A.B.

Milton Road
Litchfield, Connecticut

"M-mm, I don't know about that?"

Born March 11, 1912; Litchfield High School; Major, Psychology; Prize Speaking, 1, 2; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Society, 3, 4; Honor Student in Psychology; Assistant in Biology.

Shortly after Taffy left school, Osborn lost no time in becoming engaged to the zoology lab, where he became an authority on white rat psychology. Read any book by Osborn and see for yourself.

Helen Elizabeth Parker, A.B.

284 Stratford Road
Brooklyn, New York

Born July 31, 1911; Erasmus Hall High School; Major, German; Der Deutsche Verein, 2, 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 2, 3, 4, President, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Numerals; Tennis, 1, 2, 3; Volley Ball, 1, 2, 3, 4.

We call her Speedy because she's not—but when Speedy does finish your wave, it looks darned good. Speedy has an outside diversion, but it has not kept her from making fast friends in the dorm this year.

Bruce Fraser Pattison, B.S.

West Redding, Connecticut

Born November 10, 1910; Mount Hermon; Major, Chemistry; Football, 1, 2; Track, 1, 2, 3; Hockey, 1; Student Coach of Wrestling, 4; Heelers, 1, 2, 3; English 4-A Players, 4; Garnet Key; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; D. N., 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Greek Play.

Too bad Pat had to pay rent for his room in W. P. Pat became a mother to a new sport when he gave birth to the "Bobcat Beals."

Edith Munroe Pennell, A.B.

233 Main Street
Auburn, Maine

Born April 1, 1911; Edward Little High; Major, French; Outing Club, 1, 2, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Deutsche Verein, 4; La Petite Academie, 3, 4; Board of Industrial Group of Y.W.C.A., 4; Lanibda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Edie", with her lady-like manner, has followed her sister's footsteps in the co-educational direction. Her spirit in the French Lit. class has been noteworthy during the year. And her "penthouse" parties were pronounced O.K. by those who attended.

Dorothy Penney, A.B.

Penney Road

Belgrade, Maine

Born January 6, 1912; Belgrade High School; Major, English; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; W. A. A. "Elaine the fair, Elaine the beautiful, Elane the lily maid of Astalot"
—but oh those Lancelots!

George K. Plotica, B.S.

26 Billard Street

Meriden, Connecticut

Born April 11, 1911; Meriden High School; Major, Chemistry; Chairman of Chemical Exhibition, 4; Lawrance Chemical Society, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Wrestling, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

This mighty Tarzan cuts a cute figure on the tennis courts in his garnet shorts. He is also a mighty Tarzan on the wrestling mat (the same shorts). He has particular interest in some hospital down town, but when pressed he always claims it's a shoe hospital.

Walter C. Pottle, Jr., B.S.

31 Union Street

Auburn, Maine

Born February 6, 1911; Edward Little High School; Major, Physics; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Basketball, 1, 2, 3, 4; Football, 1, 4; Chess Club, 4.

This quiet and unassuming lad won an invitation from Prexie Gray to play a game of chess in the College St. mansion. Also a ping pong fiend.

Edwin Haines Prescott, B.S.

5 Park Street

Newburyport, Massachusetts

Born September 20, 1911; Newburyport High School; Major, Biology; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Band, 1, 2, 3, 4; Choir, 1, 2, 3, 4; Monitor, 4; Macfarlane, 3, 4, President, 4; Bates Quartet, 3, 4; Freshman Dance Committee; Senior Formal Committee; Pop Concert Committee, 3, 4; Mirror Board, 4.

The last of the "Unholy Three." Ed's deep bass voice was as much a part of the noise in Parker as it was in the Quartet.

Alice Julia Purington, A.B.

North Jay, Maine

Born April 11, 1911; Jay High School; Major, Latin; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Deutsche Verein, 4; Sodalitas Latina, 4, Vice President, 4; Student Reporter, 3, 4; Coach of Winter Sports, 3; Numerals, 2; "B" Sweater, 4; Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 3; Soccer, 1, 2, 3, 4, Varsity, 2, Captain, 3; Indoor Baseball, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Al has a quiet, unassuming way, but we who know her better realize there is a wealth of vigor and energy hidden beneath it. Witness her prowess on the athletic field. Few can claim her record for speed in soccer or hockey.

Margaret Ranlett, A.B.

Dudley Extension

Presque Isle, Maine

Born January 28, 1911; Deerfield High School, Mass.; Major, Chemistry; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; W. A. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Staff, 1, 2, 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific, 2, 3, 4; Numerals, 2.

Peg is the girl who spends all her time beating a path between Rand Hall and Hedge Laboratory. Congratulations to the only girl who ever dared to compete with the "eds" in the field of chemistry. May your spirit of persistence and endurance carry you far in the field you are planning to enter.

Charles Oscar Richter, A.B.

81 Main Street

Her remarkable record in the field of intercollegiate debating is only one indication of Eva's success in whatever she attempts. Perhaps that is why we always turned to her when we had an especially difficult or exacting task.

Donald Barton Stafford, A.B .

West Street

Oxford, Massachusetts

Born December 10, 1911; Oxford High School; Major, Economics; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Men's Politics Club, 4; Ivy Hop Committee; Ivy Day Committee.

Don is modesty personified. Most of us would feel rather elated at being voted the best dressed man in class, but not so Don. He just drew himself in a little more and was as embarrassed as the devil. "A fourth for bridge, Don?" "No, But I'll play pinochle!"

Dorothy Mae Staples, A.B.

4 Pierce Street

Westbrook, Maine

Born December 12, 1910; Westbrook High School; Major, English; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Staff, 3, 4; Alethea Club, 2, 3, Vice President, 3; Spofford Club, 4, Chairman of Program Committee, 4; Student Coach in Tennis, 4; Numerals, 3.

Dot's good humor and understanding nature have made her many friends. We may add that in addition to her many activities she is Vice President of the Fish-Bate Club; for further information see Amy Irish.

Presque Isle, Maine

Born January 3, 1912; Presque Isle High School; Major, History and Government; W. A. A. Board, 1, 2, 3; Women's Student Government Board, 4; Class Secretary, 1, 2; Student Coach of Tennis, 3; "B" Sweater, 3; Der Deutsche Verein, 3, 4; Hockey, 1, 2, 3, 4; Baskethall, 1, 2; Baseball, 1, 2, 3; Soccer, 3; Winter Sports, 3.

Deb and her unexpected giggle can be found wherever there is fun going on—or work to be done. On Stu G. board, on all the teams, captain of the Rand Hall knitting brigade, and lately a member of the co-education team, Deb's versatility is unquestioned.

Wesley Newell Tiffney, B.S.

683 New Britain Avenue

Hartford, Connecticut

Born April 7, 1909; Bulkley High School; Major, Biology; Jordan Scientific Society, 3, 4, Executive Chairman, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Biology, 4.

Wes showed us at the scientific exhibition hy his barber's itch and athlete's foot that he has had wide experience in this field. Since the lab is so near Nichols Street, the range of his activities has necessarily been considerably limited.

Richard L. Tuthill, A.B.

77 Maple Avenue

Suffern, New York

"Just let him ask me that one"

Born April 29, 1911; Suffern High School; Major, English; Outing Club, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 3, 4; Spofford Club, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Class Day Committee.

Dick is the personification of our own Doc Wright and so is bound to make good as an English teacher. A likeable fellow and a good scholar.

J. Sidney Wakely, A.B.

76 Lincoln Avenue
Rumford, Maine
"Don't you know that it is!"

Born October 1, 1910; Stephens High School; Major, Economics; Track Numerals, 1; Class Pin Committee, 2; Class Marshall, 2; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Junior Cabaret Committee; Ivy Hop Committee; Ivy Day Committee; Commencement Hop Chairman.

Sid claims to have christened more dance floors and won more prize waltzes at Chase Hall than any other individual who has been at Bates as long as he has. And such wit. "The best team in the tournament."

Albert Marston Walker, B.S.

Brownfield, Maine

Born August 7, 1910; Bean Memorial High School; Major, Mathematics; Lawrance Chemical Society, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Scientific Exhibition, 4.

Al, having been attracted by the redolence of Hedge Laboratory, decided upon chemistry for his major sport and becoming much attached to it was seldom seen on campus. Another boy who went around with but one girl for four years.

Milton Joseph Ward, A.B.

19 Newbury Street
Auburn, Maine

Born January 3, 1913; Edward Little High School; Major, English; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Those in Doc Wright's English class envied this boy for his endless store of information and his ability to express himself. He's New Auburn's leading intellectual.

Elinor Williams, A.B.

50 Burncoat Street
Worcester, Massachusetts

Born January 1, 1910; North High School; Major, English; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Phi Sigma Iota, 4; Alethea, 2, 3, President, 3; Spofford, 4; La Petite Academie, 3, 4; Student Staff, 1, 2, 3, 4, Women's Editor, 4.

An enthusiastic worker, as the French Club and Spofford Club can testify, Diddie is always willing to help out a friend in need—even coming in with assistance when Madam Gilbert had us stuck. Her interests are varied, including journalism, reading, and going to the movies—especially to one particular one in Boston.

Dorothy Evelyn Wills, A.B.

320 Center Street

Auburn, Maine

Born September 19, 1911; Edward Little High School; Major, English and French; Lambda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4, Program Committee, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 4; La Petite Academie, 3, 4; Spofford Club, 3, 4; Campus Night Committee, 1; Sophomore Hop Committee; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking, First Prize; Junior Exhibition; Varsity Play, 3; Heelers Club, 3, 4; English 4-A Players, 4.

If you're ever in need of conversation, Dot is willing to oblige. A clever little reader and a willing worker, Dot is welcome at any gathering. Good luck to you, Dot.

Edward Wilmot, B.S.

18 Linden Place

Whitman, Massachusetts

Born November 24, 1907; Whitman High School; Major, Geology; English 4-A Players, 3, 4, Business Manager; Jordan Scientific Society, 3, 4, Secretary-Treasurer; Varsity Club, 4; Football, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey, 1; Tennis, 4; Student Staff, 2, 3; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Assistant in Geology, 2, 3, 4.

Eddie's theme song has been "Bu Bu for you" during his college career. We shall remember him for his ability on the football field and his help to us in the Geology lab.

Jeannette Elizabeth Wilson, A.B.

110 Lake Street

Auburn, Maine

Born May 23, 1911; Oak Grove Seminary; Major, English; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Prize Speaking; Heelers Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; English 4-A Players, 4; Lambda Alpha, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Jean is one of the best-looking girls in our class, and an ornament to the 4-A stage. Self-contained and unpretentious, her interest and quick inteligence is soon evident in the classroom, and we all admire her ability to make up lost time in her work. May she always be as successful and popular as she has been on our campus.

Frank Ernest Wimmer, A.B.

Bench Street

Lishon Falls, Maine

"It seems to me"

Born August 10, 1910; Lishon Falls High School; Major, Psychology; Freshman Prize Debate; Sophomore Prize Debate; Varsity Debating Squad, 3; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Religious Council, 4; Debating Council, 1, 2, 3, 4.

The boy from Lisbon has excited our envy by that great fur coat of his, and by the smart roadster that he jumps the puddles on the Lishon road with.

Franklin Neal Wood, A.B.

71 Oldham Road

West Newton, Massachusetts

Born February 11, 1911; Cushing Academy; Major, English; Varsity Club, 3, 4; Macfarlane Cluuh, 2, 3, 4; Spofford Club, 4; La Petite Academie, 3, 4; Heelers Club, 2; Tennis, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain, 4; Student Staff, 1, 2; Hockey, 1; Band, 2, 3; Little Symphony, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3; Garnet Revellers, 3.

Ladies and Gentlemen! In this corner we have the versatile Wedge Wood, the Musical Mat Man who says he'll be darned if he can look rugged, even in the wrestling team picture.

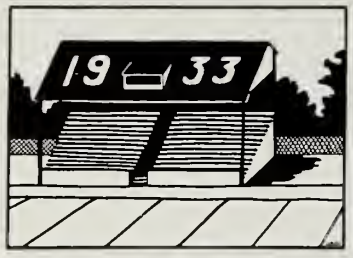
HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR



September 20—We arrive! After being feted and spoken at for three days we are formally introduced to curious or scornful upperclassmen at I Am U Are; are registered; and then precipitately dropped down to earth and classes. Initiation also subdues momentarily inflated egos: the boys have their Litanies, and the push-the-penny-with-your-nose game, and the girls look intriguing with mismated shoes, black stockings, rouged noses, umbrellas, and green shoulder bows.

October 5—We survey each other at the Freshman Ride (oh yeah!). Eddie meets Bennie.

Novmber 11—We find ourselves famous already. We and Dave Morey came to Bates together. The final victory of the State Series—over Colby—brings our first triumphant football season to a close. We participate whole-heartedly in the bonfire on Mt. David.

November 7—Ruth Benham and John Curtis start their promising careers as actors with excellent performances in "Pierrot of the Minute."

December 16—The boys lose their football game to the Sophs, so they are to pay for the Freshman-Sophomore banquet.

Vic Corey shows unusual ability in the Varsity Play, "Intimate Strangers."

February 27—The girls contribute their bit to the general entertainment at the annual Girls' Gym Meet. They look charming bounding about in their English Country Dances—particularly the Halston Fury.

March 1—We become even prouder of ourselves. Besides being hockey champs, Bates wins the National Two Mile Relay at the I. C. 4-A. Meet in New York.

March 8—Henry Lavallee and Vic Corey win the Freshman Prize Speaking.

March 12 and 19—We distinguish ourselves in the Prize Debates. Becky Carter and Lal Lemieux show their potential power at orating.

May 10—The long-awaited Sophomore Banquet takes place—in spite of our attempts to thwart it. Wild times occur on campus—Ben White, Soph president, foils a gang of desperate freshman kidnappers; and Lou Cheney's prowess in the "battle of the century" is admired the length and breadth of the college—even to the desertion of the classrooms on the ground floor of Hathorn. But in spite of all our efforts, that which turns out to be the "last supper" takes place.

June—We have survived mid-years, and what is left of us struggle through finals. We bring our first year to a close, having been guided successfully by Jack Curtis, Ronnie Melcher, Deb Thompson, and Carleton Adams.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

September—We return to great rejoicings, and each of us lends his muscle to taking a hunk out of the tennis courts where the new boys' dormitory will be. Work will be started when the stock market goes up to the pre-depression level.

October 20—Ambassador Paul Claudel is given the degree of Doctor of Laws in the chapel—at which ceremony we watch with awe the faculty streaking up the aisle to the lively strains of the excellent Bates band outside; and join with fervor in the many-times-rehearsed Marseillaise.

October 31—"Back to Bates" night for men and women—separately. The Soph girls prove their superior insight into the future by staging a mimic Bates-Bowdoin game in which Bates wins by two touchdowns. The men are treated to speeches and a sight of the Bates mascot, the bobcat.

November 10—Bates Cross Country team wins the New England title; Arn Adams coming to the fore.

November 21—Soph girls' dance, with Bobby Stuart in charge, is a great success: "The Harvest Hop."

We discover the dramatic talent of our class is shown also in George Austin, who makes a hit in "Mr. Pim Passes By," the Varsity Play.

We win the annual Soph-Frosh football classic.

December 5-30—All the campus is agog and attempting to solve the alarm clock mystery in the chapel. "The Stewed Aunt," finally tracks down Brooks Quimby as the culprit. We all relax. But tension is again brought on by the mystery of who decorated the faculty hats and rubbers in Roger Bill. The solution has never been found.

January 24—Jack Curtis and Dot Wills get ten dollars apiece for winning the Sophomore Prize Speaking.

February 14—Arn Adams does his bit for a Bates victory in the two mile relay at the B. A. A. games.

February 24-6—Sherwood Eddy on campus. We get all excited about solving the world's problems.

February 28—We are proud of our Soph Hop—the first dance to be held under the new crystal ball. Joe Roman's orchestra and penguin decorations help to make our first formal a hit; Jack Curtis, chairman.

March 25—Robert Frost almost gives a lecture in the chapel.

April 30—The 4-A Players present "Death Takes a Holiday," with Marion Hayes and Jack Curtis (oh that uniform!) contributing to its success. Honorable mention goes to Walter Gerke, whose clinging persistence is essential for the excellent lighting effects.

June—Parker Hall rumored to get new furniture. The boys take drastic means to disencumber themselves of the old.

And another year has been completed for our cohorts—led by Bob Swett, Bobbie Stuart, Deb Thompson, and Johnny Stevens.

JUNIOR YEAR

Our Junior year starts with a glow of celebrity, with Berry, Italia, Dobravolsky, Clemons, Knowles, Swett, Wilmot, and many others playing in the football games. We land up second in the State Series—but to tell the truth, we're spoiled, and we are used to being near the top now.

November 21—Our second formal goes off well, with Frank Wood in charge. Marine decorations are used, and the hall glistens with orange fishes and their tinsel eyes.

December 10 and 11—George Austin scores again in "Grumpy." '33 is well represented on the stage and behind it.

January 15—Bobby Stuart again arranges a successful girls' dance—this year a "Snow Ball."

January 21—First Model Disarmament Conference is held. Sponsored by the Politics Club, this conference arrouses interest on campus.

By dint of hounding and bothering, the students finally achieve Sunday skating on campus. The Outing Club rink is now a popular health resort.

February 13—Adams and Lary help bring the relay team to victory at the B. A. A.'s.

March 21—Valery Burati initiates all-campus elections. Great success—except for the students who got tired of waiting for the "sweat-boxes" and voted outside.

Bob Swett is elected presiden of Student Council; Lucile Jack, president of Student Government.

April 7—Male quartet contributes to Lewiston Concert for the benefit of the unemployed. Ed Prescott, bass, scares three children and a cat.

May 2—Co-eds receive permission to attend the Charity Ball in the Armory. Most successful ball the city has ever given.

May 26—Round of gaities is still continuing. We entertain ourselves at the Ivy Hop; John Dobravolsky in charge .

May 27—Ivy Day goes off splendidly; we all take turns throwing dirt on the ivy.

Dobravolsky and Austin chosen to put out the Mirror—Poor Souls.

June—Finals again hit us like a cyclone. Most of us survive.

Adams and Jellison represent us at the Olympics in the summer.

Led by Arn Adams, Lucile Jack, Dot O'Hara, and Vin Kirby this year.

SENIOR YEAR

September—Arn Adams is decorating the campus with an Olympic sweater and jacket. We bask in reflected glory.

Football starts out with a bang. Let us not forget how Yale held Bates 0-0.

We have a fairly successful season in football and track. We sit back snugly.

January 6—Senior girl's New Year dance is ably directed by Paul Littlefield. Lee Lord's work of art held the place of honor.

January 20—The musical organizations are featured at the Pop Concert. The unique gypsy concert at intermission is well received. Can we ever forget George Austin in those beautiful pants?

January 3-February 6—We try out the gym with the All-College Quiz.

January-February inclusive—Eddie Wright is getting better and better in his figure skating. He can do a figure three both ways without even wavering now—much to the disappointment of student onlookers.

February 14—The annual Winter Carnival is terminated in the Carnival Hop. A large number attend and enjoy themselves—even the Queen, who safely negotiates the "ski gauntlet" to the throne, although in constant danger from the overhead.

February 21—World Economic Conference is staged by the Politics Club, at which the discussion waxes heated—but soon cools off.

Bates has won the hockey series, and again we are at the front.

March 23-25—After one false alarm, at which scarlet fever menaced the influx of Stu G-ers, Lucile Jack and Beckie Carter are in charge of the Women's Student Gov't Conference of N. E. Rand Hall is overloaded with charming visitors—who are astonished at our honor system.

March—Stu. G also attains an astounding innovation! But it's a secret. Ruth Benham, George Austin, and Arn Libbey uphold the honor of the class in "The Winter's Tale,' by a certain Mr. Shakespeare.

May 11 and 12—And again, Bennie and George perform admirably in Galsworthy's "The Skin Game."

May 16—Fire in Auburn! Billy Moyer and many other students are helping relieve the situation for those who have lost homes, food and clothing. The Bates boys helped greatly in putting out the fire. Whenever the furniture of the houses had to be removed, it was pointed out with admiration that the boys always headed for that most dangerous place, the cellar. And a certain sergeant found an excuse to cut classes.

June 1—Last classes and we walk up the chapel aisle in caps and gowns.

June 16-19—COMMENCEMENT.

CLASS SUPERLATIVES

Most Popular Man —

Bob Swett — our class president — popular here and in Cleveland. Out there — as well as here — they cast their votes for him. Tell us, Bob, how do you know "Mu" from "Mid"?

Most Popular Woman —

Fran Brackett is both pretty and popular. It must be catching — Rand Weatherbee was elected the most popular man in last year's class.

Best Looking Man —

This label suits Dick Clemons to the "Dot." Joel McCrea and Frederic March have nothing on our Dick when it comes to good looks.

Best Looking Woman —

33's choice of Jeannette Wilson proves once again that blondes are preferred. Certainly no one will dispute the fact that the "stunning Jeannette" deserves the vote.

Best Athlete, Man —

Herb Berry, our husky man from Watertown, is superlative in football, hockey, and baseball. But why, oh why does he act so "Mooney"?

Best Athlete, Woman —

South Portland comes through again! Ronnie Melcher shines in every sport and she's a Phi Bete in addition. A real example of an all-round girl.

Best Dressed Man —

Quiet and serious Don Stafford carries this honor as gracefully as he does his clothes. However, clothes are not the only things which "make" this man!

Best Dressed Woman —

"Arn" Libbey believes that "Variety (in wearing apparel) is the spice of life." She always looks just right.

Man who did most for Bates —

Arn Adams carried the Garnet and Black along with the Red, White, and Blue in the Olympic games last summer. Through him, the name of Bates has been blazoned in head-lines all over the country.

Woman who did most for Bates —

As president of Stu. G. Lucile Jack accomplished the seemingly impossible. Co-eds at Bates can be as up-to-date as those at any other college — now that "'Cile" has put through the smoking rule.

Woman Hater —

Family tradition crops out in this case. Ralph McCluskey follows in the footsteps of his brother Ray by "drawing the line at the 'femmes'".

Man Hater —

The class of '33 is unique in this respect. We have two of these unusual personalities. Mildred Carrier and "Becky" Carter are united in their preference for feminine society.

Favorite Professors —

Every member of the faculty is so popular with the seniors that it was hard to decide this question. However, three professors finally tied for first place — R. R. N. Gould, F. A. Knapp, and G. E. Ramsdell.

Best Dancer, Man —

Is Sid Wakely the best dancer on campus? Just try to tell his "P. A. L." that he isn't and see what happens! We all have the same opinion, though, Sid.

Best Dancer, Woman —

"Lee" Lord is a little girl, but can she dance! After "treading the light fantastic" with her, many a man has been heard to sigh: "Lord, you made that dance too short!"

Best Orator, Man —

Henry Lavallée won out in this contest. We'll depend on you, Hank, to talk your way out of any difficulty when you're out in the "wide, wide world."

Best Orator, Woman —

"Becky" Carer may be a man-hater but she certainly knows how to argue. Bates loses a grand little debater with her graduation.

Wittiest Man —

When Johnnie Dobravolsky learned that he was given this title, he arched his eyebrows, "sort of," and came back with a snappy "You're not so bad yourself."

Wittiest Woman —

Helen Hamlin has kept Rand Hall in gales of laughter with her inexhaustible store of jokes. When spirits are lowest, "Jazz" comes to the rescue with "another one."

Best Built Man —

Such a physique as his is not to be found in every college.
We expect to see Reynold Burch's picture in the "Athletic Journal" any time.

Best Built Woman —

"Deb" Thompson won this title by a big majority. She's our idea of what a real American girl should be in this, and every other respect.

Most Respected Man —

Since he is the most popular man in the class, it is only to be expected that Bob Swett should also be the most respected. Who can tell but what that presidential dignity may grace the White House some day?

Most Respected Woman —

Hats off to Lucile Jack! We admire and respect her for so many reasons that it would be impossible to list them all in this short space.

Most Efficient Man —

"Let George do it" has been the class — and faculty motto for the past four years. And it is not surprising. George Austin certainly can "do it."

Most Efficient Woman —

Ruthie Benham is tiny, but she managed like a veteran in conquering all the many curricular and extra-curricular tasks which have come her way.

HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

In the early fall of 1930 there appeared in the Student an editorial on the library, containing these words: "so far only the Freshmen have started to study." Thus the illustrious class of 1934 made its first impression on the world. Some say that first impressions are lasting, and some say they are always wrong. Be that as it may, we apparently got off to a good start and continued to make impressions of various kinds throughout the year.

After the motley group of a hundred and ninety-five had been shepherded through the events of Freshman week, survived various initiatory rites, and received a few warnings, we began to feel at home. For our first officers we elected Frank Murray, President; Mary Gardner, Vice-president; Nancy Crockett, Secretary; and Julius Lombardi, Treasurer. During the rest of the year we began to take our part in college life.

Our chief talent seemed to be musical. This excelled in quantity and quality. The above-mentioned issue of the Student carried an appeal for the powers that be to furnish "each dormitory with a musical instrument, which can be kept in a closet somewhere, an accordion perhaps. Thus can we satisfy the artistic urge which chokes us." The answer to this plea was soon discovered and Al Thorp brought his instrument out of the closet to enliven many occasions. The list of soloists is long and commendable to say the least. We are especially fortunate in having Sylvester Carter listed among us. A singer of the highest caliber, he has received tributes of all kinds from praise of musical authorities to the stamping of his classmates' feet upon the chapel floor. Other fine players were soon discovered and contributed much to the musical life of the college—Norman DeMarco on his violin, Ed Small on the xylophone, Jack David on the piccolo, and Clyde Holbrook on the cello. The famous Garnet Trio was organized, and large delegations entered the musical organizations on campus.

No lack of forensic ability existed, as the debating trials soon proved. The following made the debating squad at once: Frank Murray, Willard Rand, Theodore Seamon, Marjorie Bennett, Frances Carroll, and Dorothy MacDonald. Murray took part in two inter-collegiate debates that year, and Seamon in one. The Freshmen Prize Debates, Marjorie Bennett and Frances Tarr defeated Dorothy MacDonald and Hazel Nason, with Marjorie Bennett best speaker. For the men, Albert Oliver, James Balano, and Bernard Loomer were the winning team over Willard Rand, Sumner Raymond and Frank O'Neill. Oliver was best speaker.

In the Freshman Prize Speaking the winners were Marjorie Bennett and Theodore Seamon for the first semester division, and Eileen Soper and Robert Fitterman for the second semester. Frank Murray further distinguished himself by winning the French Prize Speaking contest, which was open to the whole college. A versatile president we have indeed, who can speak in two languages, on any subject, sing in the choir, and win his numerals in football.

Ten Freshmen made Heelers that fall. The names of three — Holbrook, David, and Clifford — appeared repeatedly in the casts of 4A and Heelers productions during the season.

The class of 1934 did its part in athletics, too. Large cross-country and football squads did good work. Toomey made the varsity hockey team, while Meagher and Eaton broke records in pole vault and hurdles, respectively.

As for the literary field, 1934 was represented in the Garnet by Frances Carroll, Lester Gross, and Miriam Wheeler. Articles by Albert Oliver and Nancy Crockett appeared in the Student, while twelve Freshmen made the Student staff at the end of the year.

Th death of two members of the class came as sad events of this first year. Frances Carrol had a brilliant career in high school and had started out on one in college. She excelled in scholarship, writing, and debating. Mereen Widber, fighting against great odds of ill-health, proved her fine scholarship before being forced to give up college for good.

To these two, who showed such marked ability, who had already won the respect and regard of their classmates, we pay tribute.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Sophomore year began excitedly, to say the least, after a more or less eventful vacation. Our captain, Jim Balano, was sailing the high seas, literally, but the rest of the officers were here, Mary Gardner, Vice-president, Verna Brackett, Secretary, and Bob Johnston, Treasurer. The first memorable occasion was the "Pajama Parade," where the Sophs were disgracefully "soaked." And then Initiation — the less said about that, the better. The Canadian debating trip, successful, but how could it be otherwise when composed of Randolph Weatherbee and Frank Murray, '34. In November the college and the community were offered unusual entertainment, Sylvester Carter and his concert. A whole evening of listening to him — how satisfying after a single solo in chapel, not that we didn't like the solos, but they were never long enough. Our activities in lines other than scholastic were sadly neglected, with good results in rank(?) until the spring. Then the Sophomores showed that they could do things — the Soph. Hop under Al Thorp — delightful, was it not? Albert Oliver and Clyde Holbrook, prize debaters, showing that Sophomores can debate . . . Hockey season with Jack Rugg and Frank Soba . . . Baseball season with Howard Millett pitching . . . the various concerts with Sophomore talent adding no small part . . . and for a farewell gesture, Soph. girls' dance with the big umbrellas. And so until the fall . . . .

JUNIOR YEAR

And so the Class of '34 came back to its Junior year, full of enthusiasm and energy. The first thing in which we could show our spirit was the rally before the Yale game — that was a game — with Jere upholding our class colors. Scarcely had we recovered from this excitement when Junior Cabaret came bounding at us — all those bouncing balloons — and it was thanks to Gene Ashton and his committee that it was such a success, financially and otherwise.

In a campus innovation, student speakers in Chapel, the Juniors were represented by Frank Murray, Clyde Holbrook and Alden Gardiner — well done, boys! And our track men, Raymond, Butler, Semetauskis and Purinton, faithful and hardworking.

Then the 4A's began to liven up the campus with the "Perfect Alibi." Who could forget Clyde as the "deep, dark villain," Charlie and Russ as the pair of "slooths" and Jack as the "jolly" Major.

Christmas and vacations next, then back to the grind, with the first bright spot the Pop Concert and its colorful Gypsies, Lucienne and Skippy, Al Thorp and Norman DeMarco, Sylvester, and Al Gardiner . . . there just wouldn't have been any, if it hadn't been for the Juniors.

Some more sports . . . hockey and wrestling, new to the campus, with Lombardi and Loomer . . . and the brave boxers, Bates and Archibald vs. Max Berg.

To show that we are internationally inclined, that bull-session with Sokolsky in Jim Balano's room. And while some boys are arguing informally at home, our debating teams with Frank Murray and Ted Seamon as mainstays argue formally abroad and bring back the debating championship.

Once more Shakespeare lived in a "Winter's Tale" with the Juniors adding considerably to the performance . . . Jack David as the charming Florizel . . . Norman and Clyde, a noble pair of kings . . . and Russ, the poor clown!

"In the spring a young man's . . . Four of our class succumbed, Gene Ashton, Lucienne and Ruth Johnson and Bob Johnston. Here's our best wishes to you! And speaking of spring, baseball under Coach Carrigan with Dillon and Millett helping the team along.

The academic aspect has not been neglected in spite of our activities in extra-curricular affairs . . . for did we not have three members at the Phi Beta banquet, Eileen Soper, Frank Murray, and Ted Seamon? And in spite of all his duties Frank walked off with the Peace oration prize . . . Congratulations, Frank!

And our Junior year begins to draw to a close, Ivy Day with Al Thorp as chairman, Ivy Hop . . . the beginning of those occasions that make us feel how soon we are to be seniors.

Seniors! that awe-inspiring word, but how much can we accomplish next year . . . with such people as Clyde Holbrook, Pat Abbott, Verna Brackett, Connie Fuller, Jack Davis, Jere Moynihan, Tom Musgrave and last but not least, our President, Frank Murray . . . .

Here's to our Senior Year!

HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

The conventional way to write a class history is to upset an ink bottle and let the liquid spell itself out into teams, clubs, and individuals. That our first football team was one of the best in years; that our freshman hockey team was undefeated; and that, as sophomores, we have contributed leaders in every field of sports and forensics are the parts that perhaps should receive the most attention. Nevertheless, of equal importance are the facts that 1935 was the first class not to lose a member through Freshman mid-years; that with our class initiation was abolished; and that our first meeting as an organized group was on the Stanton Ride.

Introduced by a sporadic, but generally weak, initiation, the class of 1935 soon became an intimate part of campus life. A week after our arrival, we jolted over jig-saw puzzle streets out to Lake Auburn. Here we played games, visited the fish-hatchery, drank cider, listened to the tradition of Johnny Stanton, and indulged in other companionable acts that gave us a class solidity.

As a group, of course, it was necessary to have officers. Out of a long list of nominees, the following were chosen: Gordon Jones, President; Fran Hayden, Vice-president; Jerry Avery, Secretary ;and Bob Kramer, Treasurer. The popularity of these officers was demonstrated by their reëlection in the spring.

Soon after the Stanton ride, the football season began. Losing to Bridgton, defeating M. C. I., Coburn, and E. M. C. S., and tieing the state prep-school champions, Kents Hill; the freshman team developed many of the players seen in varsity action our Sophomore year. Aldrich, Anicetti, Fuller, Gay, Gilman, Hill, Kramer, Lenzi, Lindholm, Lynch, Mendall, Pond, Pricher, Rainville, Rohin, Stone, Taylor, Valicenti, and Zook received numerals.

At the same time that the football season was going on, the freshman cross-country team was piling up a record of four victories to one defeat. Olds, Winston, Malloy, Boston, Chapman, Norman, and Candee were the outstanding runners.

The class contributed quite as many students interested in dramatics and debating as it did athletes. Freshman debates were held at Wells and Dexter, in which, Norton, Perry, Lawrence, McLean and Pierce participated. Ray Stetson and John Dority won the men's division of prize-speaking. Margaret Perkins and Charlotte Harmon received first in the women's division. The leaders in dramatics for our class were Barbara Lincoln, Thelma Poulin, Margaret Perkins, William Haver, and George Orestis. Cubberly, Khouri, Charlotte Longley, Norman, and other freshmen were members of the debate council.

Shortly after Christmas, the class hockey team began practice. Represented by White, Heldman, Yeaton, Lynch, who were also varsity players, and Gilman, Greig, Hill, Mendall, Norman, Stone, and Zook, the team came through its season undefeated. At the same time, Anicetti, Bangs, Kramer, and Malloy were earning their letters with the varsity track team.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

Our sophomore year began with Taylor, Stone, Hill, Gay, Valicenti, Kramer, Gilman, Mendall, Pricher and Fuller representing the class on the varsity football team. The work of Pricher in the scoreless Yale-Bates game, drew the admiration of football critics throughout the East.

The first formal held by the class was the Sophomore Hop. The committee headed by Frank Pendleton, was composed of Fran Hayden, Charlotte Harmon, Leno Lenzi, and Bill Pricher.

As would be expected, the men outstanding in track and hockey continued their records. Sheridan, Kramer, and Pendleton were perhaps the highest point winners this year.

The first two of this trio ran in the Penn Relays, in which Bates received a second place. The last one, Bob Kramer, was one of the Garnet point winners at the State Track Meet. Don Malloy, another Sophomore track star, won second in the mile run at the same event.

Anxious for blazers, the class held numerous meetings in the Spring to discuss securing them. The opposition parlimentarians adroitly applied obstruction methods to this campaign; adjoining, calling for a quorum, and even playfully suggesting the danger of shattering a visionary class and college tradition. At length, however, action was taken, and the problem of blazers was left to the discretion of a committee headed by Joy Dow.

Among the sport innovations at Bates is wrestling. Although not quite in a class with Don George or Gus Sonnenburg, the three Sophomore representatives Carlin, Anicetti, and Frangedakis, can flex their muscles with the most legerdemaine of matmen.

At the time of this writing, the Sophomore team is leading the twi-light league. Pricher and Aldrich function as an almost perfect elimination battery; in the last game for instance, fourteen men were fanned. Valicenti, Dixie, and Gay, are also outstanding players.

The only sport unmentioned is tennis. The prospective Tildens of '35 are Brad Hill and Charlie Paige, both of whom are regular Varsity men.

In the March elections the following were chosen to guide the destinies of the class in its junior year: Milton Lindholm, President; Fran Hayden, Vice-president; Jerry Avery, Secretary; and Bob Kramer, Treasurer. Lindholm and Walt Gay were elected to the Athletic Council, while Student Council next year will see Gay, McLean, and Olds.

HISTORY

On September 26, 1932, the 233 new recruits to the Bates student body who comprised the incoming Freshman class, began to gather on the Bates campus. We had little time to stop and admire the college buildings or the beautiful red and gold coloring that Autumn had given to the trees and ivy vines but were immediately collected by the upperclassmen in charge and hurried off to our respective dormitories.

Then began a week of activities, confusion and turmoil to most of us, who had never experienced anything quite like the business-like method Bates has for making its Freshmen acquainted with the workings of the school. We were welcomed by various Campus institutions, given parties, luncheons, receptions, and in the midst of all this, managed to get our courses arranged and become full-fledged members of the Class of 1936.

The first real social event, and co-educational at that, was the I. M. U. R. party, at which we managed to learn the names of some of our classmates by accosting them with a pencil and demanding a signature. October 1st was the Stanton ride which, much to our astonishment, turned out to be mostly a walk. However, the long hike only improved our ravenous appetites so that we did more than justice to the hot-dogs, doughnuts, apples, and other picnic fare. Then for the girls, the next event was the Student Government Stunt Night, which, from the lurid stories we still hear, was quite a modification from the Freshman school of previous years. In fact we really enjoyed the little plays put on by the girls of the different dormitories, and it seemed a pleasant way to get acquainted with one another.

The Reception to the Freshmen given by President and Mrs. Gray, was an evening enjoyed by everyone. The program was arranged to give everyone a chance to make some new friends, and the clever pantomime given by Professor Robinson made us all realize what a versatile man he is.

From the very first, the class of 1936 has had an unusually large number of its members interested in dramatics. The first opportunity to show their talent came when a program of three one-act plays was given by the Dramatic Club in which Mary Abromson, Ruth Coan, Louise Geer, and Eddie Curtin, all of the Freshman class, had prominent parts. Then, a little later, the Varsity play, "The Perfect Alibi" had, as leading members of the cast, two freshmen, Ila Page and Eddie Curtin, who showed great ability in their acting. The Shakespearean play, "The Winter's Tale," given in March by the 4A players, had nine members of the class of '36 in its cast, with Mary Abromson filling the role of queen very capably.

In the field of debating the class of '36 showed its true Bates character by holding two well managed debates at which the president and vice-president presided. The Prize Speaking Contest was won by Ruth Rowe and Owen Dodson.

The first week in February brought to the class a new experience in the shape of college mid-years. Most of our number managed to survive these without too much difficulty and after that, felt that they had really earned their places in the Bates student body.

In March the all-college elections took place and the Freshman class chose the same people to fill the class offices for next year with the exception of Robert Saunders who was elected to the office of treasurer. Edith Milliken and Eleanor Glover were elected to represent the freshmen women as members of the Student Government Board; Marjorie Fairbanks was chosen secretary of the Y. W. C. A.; Dorothy Wheeler will be secretary of the W. A. A. for next year and Harriet Van Stone will be on the W. A. A. Board. Edmund Muskie and Stanton Sherman were elected members of the Student Council for the year 1933-1934 in place of Henry Sawin who served on the Council during 1932-1933. And the following members of the class of '36 were elected to the Outing Club Junior Body: Marguerite Hulbert, Edith Milliken, Harriet Van Stone, Ruth Rowe, Dorothy Wheeler, and Harold Bailey, Verdelle Clark, Fred Field, Robert Grannan, Nils Lennartson, Fred Smyth, William Swallow.

This year at Bates has meant a lot to all of us, with its troubles and pleasures and new friendships, not to mention the store of knowledge which we managed to accumulate through the hard efforts of our professors. As the Class of 1936 we hope to continue onward through the next three years, adding our bit to Bates tradition and receiving in return, valuable gifts of learning and friendship.

The purpose of the Student Council is to improve, in general, the conditions of student life and to encourage and uphold a policy of coöperative administration between the faculty and the student body.

This year, the Student Council furthered its purpose of coöperation by establishing and maintaining a policy of non-initiation of freshmen. The result of this experiment was entirely successful and points to an even more improved relationship among the members of the student body. The Student Council again supervised, as well as financed, the General College Elections, which it established last year.

The Student Council had a successful year and it is hoped that this organization will continue to function as it has in the past, and recognize the many opportunities for growth and development.

In carrying out its purpose of promoting the best interests of the college and improving the general conditions of student life, the Board has worked toward a constructive social program in addition to its judiciary functions.

Several new social activities have been inaugurated: Freshmen Stunt Night displaced Freshmen School; teas for all of the girls have been given monthly in Rand Reception Room; in February a Tea Dance was sponsored by the organization; the Women's Locker Building was opened for social use during the winter months.

In November, a radio was installed in Rand Hall for the general use of the girls, and a special room was set aside for that purpose. Current magazines were placed regularly in all the dormitories. At the annual banquet held December 23 in Fiske Dining Hall, Mrs. John Shroeder of Portland, as guest speaker, talked on the intriguing subject of the "Nice Oddities of Chance."

It was with pleasure that the Bates Student Government welcomed to its campus the Conference of the New England Association of Student Governments of Co-educational Colleges, March 23, 24, and 25.

The Macfarlane Club, in its sixteen years of existence, has held as its main purpose that of fostering the best in music for the Bates campus. Its programs this year were built with this in mind. Several open meetings were held allowing those interested in better music to attend. It was hoped that Dr. Macfarlane, for whom the Club was named, might be able to visit campus and meet the members, but we were unfortunate in this respect. The membership quota has been raised this year, thus providing facilities for increased activity, and plans are already under way to make the Club more effective in the coming year.

This past year the choir has been more active than any year previous. In an effort to improve the Chapel services, the Choir has been called on to furnish two anthems per week, as well as to furnish responses and glorias to the regular services. Music used was of the best type and class of church music by leading composers. The members of the Choir were joined together with the group known as the Choral Society for all services in which this group functioned.

The first appearances made by the Band this year were those in connection with the football rallies, the most important of which was the "Pre-Yale Game" Rally for which the entire Band was present. The Band followed the team to Orono on October 2 and played both before and during the game. The following two week-ends were spent on the Bates Campus at the Colby and Bowdoin games.

Student Assemblies, Rallies, Back-To-Bates Programs, and the Bates Inter-scholastic Basketball Tournaments made necessary at least one rehearsal each week in the Alumni Gymnasium.

In the short span of three years, the Bates Little Symphony has developed into a fine musical unit.

It has made appearances at concerts in conjunction with the college Glee Clubs, and has also been well-received in several radio broadcasts. This organization deals with the better dance rhythms of the day, and with special arrangements of the lighter semi-classics.

Another year for the Glee Club has passed, and although a somewhat different policy was followed in regard to public appearances, it has been a highly worthwhile year. Under the direction of Prof. Crafts the club took part in the Bates Musical broadcast as well as assisting at local concerts. This year the Club was joined with the Women's Glee Club for what is known as the Bates Choral Society. The group made their appearance at the Annual Pop Concert and on different occasions in chapel, both in secular and sacred music.

The Women's Glee Club, under the direction of Professor Crafts, has been an integral part of the musical activities on campus. The girls were well received at the concert held in the United Baptist Church. The ensemble of the Men's and Women's Clubs added to the unique program of the Pop Concert, held in the Alumni Gym in January. Many other similar activities are included in the annual program of the club.

The Orphic Society, as the college orchestra is called, is one of the leading musical organizations on the campus and the membership includes many of the best musicians. This year the standard reached by the orchestra was unusually high. It played at the annual Pop Concert, at concerts given in the United Baptist Church, Lewiston, City Hall in Portland, at the Commencement exercises and at other musical affairs.

The Bates Quartet, organized last year, has continued under the able direction of Mr. Carter. Many new numbers have been added to the repertoire. This group purposes to interpret artistically the music of outstanding composers. The Quartet has apeared on all concerts given by the college musical clubs — not the least of which were the radio program and concert in Portland City Hall. It has also made numerous appearances alone. The group will lose one member with the graduation of Edwin H. Prescott. However, it is hoped that the Quartet will continue its work for some time since it fills competently a much needed place in Bates musical programs.

Through coöperation and hard work, the club has been able to maintain this year its high standard of dramatic production. Under President Austin, a regular plan of meetings has been established at which matters of business, formulated by the Executive Committee, have been presented for discussion. Play-readings by the Heelers have served as entertainment at these meetings and also as a basis for determining future talent.

A major improvement was effected during the summer in cutting off the front corners of the Little Theatre for the purpose of providing additional dressing rooms and storage space behind scenes, and with the result that the general appearance of the Little Theatre is greatly improved. New furniture and a few required drapes have also been added to the properties, while other needs are being considered for future provision.

As in former years, the splendid work and help of "Prof. Rob" has enabled the Players to accomplish all that they have done. The work of Mr. Gerke and his stage helpers has been well-ordered and effective in its results, while the business records have been capably upheld by Edward Wilmot, business manager.

With this "dramatic Sandwich" the 4-A Players opened their season. A large attendance both nights assured an interested following. An amusing battle of the sexes marked the two comedies inasmuch as the first included only women in its cast, and the last, all men. The play "Trifles," one of the best of its kind ever written, equalled on the stage its reputation as a writing.

Effective stage settings and the largest cast ever maintained made this production one of the most spectacular of Shakespearian presentations. Discriminating casting stood out in all of the characters from the tensely dramatic or cleverly amusing main characters to the many minor characters. Lyrics and a country dance gave vigor to the lighter scenes, while the effective and difficult statue scene was enhanced by the dignity of Hermione and the emotion of Leontes.

LAST THREE-ACT PLAY OF YEAR

THE SKIN GAME

By John Galsworthy

LITTLE THEATRE — MAY 11 AND 12

The final production of the year was given as a tribute to the late John Galsworthy in the presentation of his "Skin Game." A large number of character parts gave an excellent opportunity to some of the new members of the club, and to the senior members for their last performance. George Austin as old Hillcrist made a memorable appearance as well as Ruth Benham, who made an excellent farewell appearance. John David served as the coach.

Regular meetings with play-readings at intervals have provided a more active program for this club which is subsidiary to the 4-A Players. From its ranks, members have been chosen to take part in the major productions, and some have qualified by two productions to become 4-A members. The club provided the entertainment at the annual Y. W. C. A. bazaar this year with the presentation of the play "Followers" under the direction of Florence Wells, '34. Other innovations included the election of a secretary to keep records, files with records of all the Heelers, and occasional joint meetings with the 4-A Players. Credit for all the work of the Heelers must be given to the Vice-president of the 4-A Players, Ruth Benham.

The Debating Council is composed of two kinds of members, the permanent members — that is, those who have been in at least one Varsity debate — and the temporary members — those who have qualified in competitive trials. The Council manages the inter-collegiate debates, and both the Maine and New Hampshire Interscholastic Debating Leagues. The Council also sponsors Junior Varsity debates, and a Freshman schedule.

DELTA SIGMA RHO
OFFICERS

President — Norris Lord, '03

Secretary-Treasurer — Yvonne L. Berkelman, '28

Delta Sigma Rho is the National Honorary Forensic Society. Completion of the sophomore year, and participation in at least two intercollegiate debates is the minimum requirement for membership. Admission is purely honorary, Delta Sigma Rho being the Phi Beta Kappa of Debating. Election to this society, in which Bates holds the only Maine Chapter, has been awarded to the following people this year: Rebecca W. Carter, '33; Helen E. Hamlin, '33; Lionel A. Lemieux, '33; Eva E. Sonstroem, '33; Frank S. Murray, '34; and Theodore I. Seamon, '34. The formal initiation will take place at the annual meeting of Delta Sigma Rho which is to be held at Commencement.

Bates – Mount Allison International Debate

The debating season opened with a bang on October twenty-sixth, when Mount Allison University of Sackville, New Brunswick, returning the visit of the Bates debaters of last year, sent two of its outstanding debaters, Ernest P. Weeks, '33, and Joseph A. Berridge, '33, to discuss the question of National Advertising with us, in our only international debate of the year. The men motored down from New Brunswick, and were welcomed to Lewiston by one of our typically exasperating Maine rainstorms. In the afternoon, the Mount Allison debaters and the Bates Debating Council were the guests of President and Mrs. Clifton D. Gray at a tea given in honor of the Canadian Team. Bates was represented in the debate by Lionel A. Lemieux, '33; and Frank S. Murray, '34. The debate was held before an unusually large audience in our Chapel. It was followed by a spirited Open Forum discussion. There was no decision.

Non-Decision Debates

The presentation of both sides of an important controversial question is the objective sought by the Debating Council in sponsoring a group of non-decision debates with various institutions. This year, our opponents have been: Bucknell University, New York University, Rollins College, Tufts College, and Vermont University. The men who participated in these debates were: Lionel A. Lemieux, '33; Wendell B. May, '34; Frank S. Murray, '34; Robert Fitterman, '34; Theodore I. Seamon, '34; Gordon Jones, '35; Walter J. Norton, '35; Bond M. Perry, '35: and John H. Pierce, '35. The questions for debate were Taxation, Advertising, and War Debt Cancellation.

Radio Debates

Speaking to the "great unseen public" is getting to be quite the thing at Bates. This year, the Council has sponsored four radio debates. While on the Pennsylvania trip, Frank S. Murray, '34 and Lionel A. Lemieux, '33 discussed the question of Federal Aid to the Unemployed with a team from the University of Pennsylvania over Station WCAU. Earlier in the season — in January — two Bates teams discussed the taxation question over WCSH. One of these teams later debated the University of Maine over WLBZ on the same topic. The participants in these debates were: Carleton Mabee, '36; William Greenwood, '36; Edmund Muskie, '36; and Wendall May, '36. The last radio debate was with a team from Boston College over WNAC. Walter Norton, '35, and Bond Perry, '35 represented Bates in this debate. The subject was National Advertising.

Class Prize Debates

Each year, the Debating Council sponsors freshman and sophomore prize debates. An award is made to each winning team, and an additional prize to the best individual speaker in each debate. Ruth M. Rowe, '36, and Cecil A. Bradley, '36 were the members of the winning team in the first freshman debate on the subject of Taxation. Miss Rowe was adjudged best speaker. In the second freshman debate, on Automobile Insurance, the members of the winning team were Isabel J. Fleming, '36; Irving Isaacson, 36; and Fred A. Smyth, 36. Edward P. Curtin, '36 was given the award for best speaker. In the sophomore prize debate, the question of the Municipal Ownership of Public Utilities in Lewiston was discussed. The members of the winning team were: William E. Haver, '35; Charlotte E. Longley, '35; and Ralph B. Musgrave, '35. Ray W. Stetson, '35 was adjudged best speaker.

MEN DEBATERS

THE EASTERN INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATING LEAGUE

Thrice Champions of the East, in four years of Eastern Intercollegiate Debating League membership! That is the enviable and unique record of the "little college from Maine." The importance of this record is appreciated when we consider that this year, as in other years, Bates was pitted against colleges of much greater size. The 1932-1933 schedule included the University of Pennsylvania, Princeton, Brown, Williams, Wesleyan, and Smith. Nevertheless, the Bates debaters won sixteen out of a possible eighteen judges' votes. The other members of the Eastern League are: Amherst, Lafayette, Mount Holyoke, Vassar, and Yale. The men who participated in League Debates this year are: Lionel A. Lemieux, '33; Frank S. Murray, '34; Theodore I. Seamon, '34; Gordon Jones, '35; and Powers McLean, '35. Much credit is due Professor Brooks Quimby, who directs the activities of the debating teams.

Junior Varsity Debates

The junior varsity squad debates serve both as training for the underclassmen on the squad, and as a means of giving exhibition debates on the Interscholastic League question before various high school audiences. The exhibition debates with other institutions this year were: Boston College at Boston; Boston Latin at Boston; and the University of Maine at Orono. There were also a group of exhibition debates between teams picked from our Debating Squad. These were held in Belfast, Bridgton, and Wilton. An exhibition debate was also given before the Kiwanis Club of Lewiston.

Freshman Debates

For the second year, an added incentive for the freshmen to enter the activities of the debating squad has been furnished by the continuation of a freshman schedule. This schedule is made up of non-decision debates with various Maine and New Hampshire high schools. In each debate, Professor Quimby acts as critic. Debates were held with: Cony High, Edward Little High, Gorham High (N. H.), and Lewiston High School.

BATES INTERSCHOLASTIC DEBATING LEAGUE

State of Maine

The twentieth annual debating tournament was held on the campus April 21 and 22. Bangor High School came out victorious, with Berwick Academy winning second place. Both of these teams are thus eligible for competition in the National Tournament to be held at Wooster, Ohio. A tie for best speaker necessitated dividing the award between Andrew Cox of Bangor High, and Marchant Hall of Rumford High.

The subject for debate this year was Taxation. Sixty-four schools participated in the preliminaries of the Maine League this year. Out of this total, eighteen qualified for the semifinals. Since two schools had to withdraw, however, only sixteen schools took part in the tournament. The schools qualifying for the finals were: Bangor High, Berwick Academy, Hallowell High, Rumford High, and South Paris High School.

State of New Hampshire

A new addition to the activities of the Bates League was made this year with the assumption of the directorship of the New Hampshire Debating League. Eleven schools participated in the preliminaries this year. The schools which qualified for the finals were: Raymond High, Sanborn Seminary, and Whitefield High School. The finals were held on campus on April 28. Raymond High School won the New Hampshire State Championship, with Whitefield High in second place. Both of these schools are eligible for the National Tournament. The award for best speaker was divided between Edith Hammond of Raymond High, and Winston Shaw of Whitefield High School, due to a tie vote.

Professor Brooks Quimby and his assistant, Theodore I. Seamon, '34, organized and directed the activities of the League.

WOMEN DEBATERS

The women's debating season opened early this season with a trip through Vermont. The negative side of the question Resolved: That the inter-allied debts should be cancelled, was upheld both at the University of Vermont and at Middlebury by Helen Hamlin, '33, Eva Sonstroem, '33, and Margaret Perkins, '35. Mr. and Mrs. Quimby accompanied the debaters.

On February 23 Helen Hamlin and Rebecca W. Carter, '33 met the Maine debaters at Orono. The question discussed was "Resolved that the material culture of the Occident cannot survive if it does not adopt the spiritual culture of the Occident."

In the first home debate of the year, Bates entertained three representatives from the University of New Hampshire, again using the war debt question. This debate was marked by Helen Hamlin's last appearance and by the first appearance of Lillian Bean, '35 and Joyce Foster, '35.

May 5, Eva Sonstroem, '33, and Rebecca W. Carter, '33 upheld the negative of the civilization question used at University of Maine, at Mt. Holyoke.

As this material goes to press plans are being formed for the entertainment of a team from Elmira later in the spring.

The year 1932-1933 saw the Bates Student carry forward the liberal policies inagurated by the preceding editor, Valery Burati. Several innovations were introduced during the year which are significant as stepping stones in the climb of the paper to a prominent position in the field of college journalism. On the morning following the presidential election of 1932, the Bates Student came out with an extra carrying as complete information as any of the papers of Lewiston, and at an earlier hour. The paper has been exceptionally fine in makeup, and material. There have been comparatively few errors in typography, and the work done by the reportorial and managerial staffs has been highly commendable.

The quality and quantity of advertising carried in the columns of the Bates Student has increased during this year. Student subscriptions to the paper have been carried under a blanket charge by the college office, since it was felt that this was an activity in which every student had a part.

The Bates Student has attempted to deal with campus problems during the past year without fear or favor. A vigorous campaign was carried on during the spring of 1932 against compulsory chapel. As a result many changes were made and although the goal was not achieved, progress was made against an institution which has weathered sixty years of student criticism. The paper has stood for an informed, independent student group on the Bates campus, and in matters pertaining to the college commons, a liberal club, revision of educational procedure, marking and credits, student government, athletics and the social life of the campus, the Bates Student has consistently taken the position that education of students for life can only proceed when unnecessary limitations upon their growth have been removed.

The year 1932-1933 saw the world undergoing tremendous upheavals which will have a tremendous effect on the student life of this generation. Much of the editorial space of the Bates Student has been devoted to an attempt to interest students in world problems and to formulate a definite sentiment for a world order built upon the principles of collectivism and international good will.

A standard cover was adopted for the year 1932-1933, which will probably be continued as the cover in future years. Drawings by Elizabeth Lord illustrated the March issue of The Garnet.

The third issue of The Garnet was in charge of Abbott Smith, the editor-in-chief for the year 1933-1934.

Y. M. C. A.

In the spring of 1932, the new cabinet took its place and began the job of carrying on to serve the best interests of the entire campus. The work immediately at hand was the editing of the Freshman Handbook and arrangements for its distribution to the incoming Freshman. Many of the articles were revised, and a better handbook was put out than ever before.

During Freshman Week, trains and busses were met; trunks and baggage were transferred; and the information tent was conducted as usual. Then, as a fitting climax came the "I am--You are" party, which gave an opportunity to renew the friendships of the past year and to start new acquaintanceships with the members of the Freshman Class. This function was held in the gym this year because of the lack of sufficient space in Chase Hall. On the first week-end, the "Y" conducted the traditional Stanton Ride to the Auburn Hatchery.

The weekly meetings on Wednesday nights were in the form of discussion groups, and were held during both semesters. During the second semester these discussions centered around the Laymen's Report on Foreign Missions.

The regular routine business of the "Y" was carried on all year; an attempt was made to revive the somewhat lagging interest in the second-hand bookstore; the Employment Service, under the able direction of Mr. Whitbeck, was of use to many; the radios in Chase Hall and in the infirmary were kept in repair; magazines were furnished for Chase Hall; and refreshments were supplied to the men in the infirmary.

During the year a new dance floor was put into Chase Hall, paid for very largely from the proceeds of the dances which were run by the Y. M. C. A.

An innovation was introduced, in that the "Y" members could swim at the Auburn pool at reduced rates with the college organization paying a portion of that. Early in the spring an interclass swimming meet was held.

This year a great deal of coöperation was made possible with the Christian Associations of the other Maine colleges. There was two meetings of the four cabinets of the state, one in the fall and one in the spring.

As usual, deputations were sent out to local churches and to many of the rural churches within a radius of 50 miles. A joint deputation with the other Maine colleges also took place.

Plans were started early for a large delegation to attend the conference at Northfield, the delegates being mostly from the three lower classes so that the campus might have the benefit of their work the following year.

There was more coöperation between the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. than in previous years. Joint meetings, joint cabinet discussions and retreats were some of the manifestations of this. Much that was helpful to the campus as a whole came from this coöperative functioning.

Y. W. C. A.

Starting off with a good time at the retreat at Camp Cochnewagon, this Y.W.C.A. cabinet has had a most successful year in all phases of its work.

Following up the plan to stress and improve the Freshman program this year, "Jo" Springer, tackling a new job with particularly strong enthusiasm, succeeded in interesting more Freshmen than ever before in the work of the "Y". Then, too, as is the custom, the Y. W. C. A. combined with the Y. M. C. A. in planning and carrying out the many activities of Freshman Week and providing the Freshmen with their handbooks.

Accomplishing another idea emphasized on the retreat, namely for more unity between the two sides of the campus, there has been a greater coöperation between the two cabinets, as evidenced by several joint cabinet meetings and by a joint cabin party at Thorncrag. Thus, working with the Y. M. C. A., through the Council on Religion they were responsible for the Institute on Religion which brought so many fine leaders to campus—people such as Newton C. Fetter, Dr. Herrick, Kirtley F. Matther, Harry Taylor, Edith Wilson, and Mrs. Rupe.

Not only did they bring leaders with the Institute, but they were responsible also for having as speakers Sue Bailey Thurman, Ray Currier, Katherine Duffield, and many others.

Of course, there were, as always, the usual successful activities: the banquet on March 29—the success of which was due to Thelma Kittredge; the discussion groups with their record weekly attendance; and the "Mother Goose" Bazaar on which Rebecca Carter and her committee spent so much profitable time and energy.

The Y. W. C. A. has not only accomplished these material things this year, but also it has, in many ways, done a great deal toward reaching that more intangible goal of its "Y" pledge: "to realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God and to determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people, seeking in this task to follow Jesus and understand Him."

The purpose of The Council on Religion is to co-ordinate the several campus religious groups in the effort to make religion a more vital thing n campus, and to take charge of religious matters untouched by either the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. or the Christian Service Club. This year it has been in charge of several vesper services, which were very well attended and well worth-while. Early in the spring, a three day "Institute of Religion" was carried on which stressed "Thinking Straight in Religion." It stimulated much thought and the students began to truly realize the place that religion holds in their college life. The communion plates used in the Easter service this year were purchased through the Council.

Dr. Zerby has been the constant adviser and inspiration for all the projects of the Council. His effort to give religion "a local habitation and a name" in the college is a great and worthy one.

In 1932, Spofford and Alethea Clubs consolidated. Retaining the name Spofford Club, the organization has continued to stimulate active interest in creative writing. Furthering its purpose, members of the club have contributed throughout the year to the Bates literary quarterly, The Garnet.

Besides studying contemporary English and American authors the club this year has widened its aim. Spofford Club, in its endeavor to engage a campus lecturer, has sought to encourage a deeper, more general appreciation of English literature.

Assembling on the third Tuesday of each month, the French Club has had some enjoyable meetings, characterized principally by talks given by members of the faculty on some phase of French life or art. Prof. Gilbert's speech on the Bayou Tapestry, Prof. Berkelman's talk on the greatest French contribution to the world's art—the Gothic cathedral, Mr. Bertocci's portrayal of the evolution of the French home, and other talks all helped to make the club meetings interestings and well attended.

The national honorary society of Phi Sigma Iota, with subordinate local chapters, was founded with the purpose of extending the interest in and cultural study of the romance languages—French, Spanish, and Italian.

The Kappa Chapter this year studied the question of money in the French social life as it has evolved through the centuries. This subject was pursued through reports upon authors who have reflected the attitude toward money on the French stage. In these days of money madness, it is only fitting that Kappa Chapter should study the evolution of such matters in France.

The aim of the Bates Verein is to promote interest in the life and literature of the German people. At the club's bi-monthly meetings, interesting programs consisting of reports on German writers, their works, and general topics of the day are given.

Among its members the club has two native born Germans, Mr. Eric Labouvie and Miss Inge von Mueller, who have taken an active part in many of the meetings.

In addition to its regular activities, the Verein has successfully presented two German plays in the German Lutheran Church. The annual Halloween party at Thorncrag was held in the fall, and the club members also enjoyed a Christmas party with a specially arranged program in the Women's Locker Building in December.

Sodalitas Latina is composed of seniors who have studied Latin for four years in college. The purpose of the club is to aid prospective teachers of Latin as a subject. Each member participates in pre-arranged programs which are designed to aid in solving problems that the teacher of Latin might encounter. The club endeavors also, to promote an active interest in Latin literature according to its invaluable contributions to world knowledge. An annual event occurs on "Freddie's" birthday, when the club entertains him at Fiske Dining Hall. Meetings are brought to a close each year with the election to membership of all Juniors majoring in Latin.

Another year has passed, and once again the Men's Politics Club has displayed its ability to accomplish something outstanding. In the late fall, the campus was fortunate in hearing Governor Brann deliver his challenge to college students. During the winter, the Club presented in Chase Hall its miniature World Economic Conference, as a result of which many compliments were received.

Representatives of the Club attended the Model League of Nations meeting which was held at Smith College. Due to the zealous efforts of these representatives, Bates has been assured that it may represent Italy rather than Etruria at the next League meeting.

Such achievements as these lead people to regard the Men's Politics Club as one of the outstanding campus organizations.

The Women's Politics Club is composed of a limited number of members of the the Junior and Senior classes whose major is in the field of either Sociology, Economics, History, or Government. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. Topics of the day in the above fields are discussed before the club, generally followed by an open forum. The club endeavors to bring on campus each year some speaker whose subject is of current interest to the whole college.

The Women's Politics Club assisted in the presidential ballot in the fall, also in the Model Economic Conference held in Chase Hall, February 22, 1933. In March the club sent two of its members to an intercollegiate Economic Conference at Smith College.

The Jordan Scientific Society, since its formation in 1910, has had an active and progressive history. The purpose of the society is to effect a correlation between the sciences as well as to stimulate and promote the interest of the students in the practical application and experimental side of scientific work.

A variety of subjects are presented to the group twice a month by the faculty or some specialist in a scientific field. In February of this year an exhibition was held in conjunction with the Lawrance Chemical Society in order to give those not directly connected with the work a general view of the several departments of scientific work.

The Ramsdell Scientific Society, named in honor of Professor George T. Ramsdell, is composed of fourteen members from the two upper classes. Each member is recommended by the heads of two science departments.

The meetings are held on the first and third Tuesdays of the month. Each meeting is conducted by two members who give discussions of their own particular scientific interests. Several outside speakers have been featured as well. By this method, a broader range of scientific knowledge is introduced. The society coöperated with Jordan Scientific and Lawrance Chemical in the annual scientific exhibition.

The Lawrance Chemical Society is a group of students, majoring in chemistry, who have shown promise and interest in their major field. The club endeavors not only to fulfill its social functions but to keep its members informed of the progress made in the rapidly developing field of chemistry through papers prepared and read by club members, correspondence with former club men, and talks by specialists in the field when the latter are available.

Its activities include the bi-monthly meetings, correspondence with graduate members, and the annual exhibition in conjunction with the other scientific societies on campus.

Ten years ago the Cosmos Club was formed by a group of students interested in religious work. In the spring of 1932 a new constitution was adopted and the club reorganized as the Christian Service Club. It is composed of students planning to enter religious work as a vocation.

Meetings have been varied, but, in all, an excellent spirit of fellowship has prevailed. In the fall, a very impressive initiation service was held in the chapel. Other meetings have included special speakers and discussions, a delightful Christmas party at Thorncrag, and since January, a series of visits to local social and religious agencies with the aim of working with these organizations actively, after observation and study. At Christmas, dinners were provided for two large needy families.

Dr. Zerby has been the ever-helpful advisor under whose leadership this club has become an active organization on the campus.

The resignations of Alden Gardiner from the presidency and of Mildred Moyer from secretaryship were received with regret. Thanks are due them for faithful work done while in office.

OUTING CLUB

terned after the Dartmouth Outing Club, many minor flaws were found in the Bates Outing Club which have, at least, been partially remedied. The new self-perpetuating organization has been found to function with a great deal more efficiency than the old type of organization.

The Outing Club began its program with hikes and mountain climbs during the fall months, followed with the regular winter schedule, with the skating, on the new Garcelon field winter schedule, with skating on the new Garcelon field rink proving a very popular sport.

In spite of adverse weather conditions, the Annual Winter Carnival was carried through with great success, opening with the faculty-student baseball game on snowshoes, and followed by movies of winter sports, inter-dorm competition for both men and women, an all-college skate, and exhibition skiing by members of the Winter Sports team — climaxed by the Carnival Hop and the crowning of Charlotte Cutts, '33, as Carnival Queen.

Several steps in advance were taken in regards to Winter Sports this year, in the hiring of a regular Winter Sports Coach, Winslow Durgin, a graduate of Dartmouth, and in the transfer of all control of winter sports to the Athletic Association.

The plan for the spring season calls for several hikes, mountain climbs, deep-sea fishing trips, canoe and fishing trips which, if patronized as well as similar ones in the past, will be very successful.

A great step forward has been taken this year, too, in regard to Cabin Parties. Several parties of freshmen women were taken to the cabins and given instructions in running a cabin party.

In keeping with the general call for economy, the Outing Club has economized as much as possible: The Annual All-College Picnic, which would incur great expense, was cut from the program. Economy in regard to Winter Sports equipment and long trips was also exercised.

Last spring three members from the club attended a conference of all the New England Outing Clubs at Dartmouth, and at that conference was organized the Intercollegiate Outing Club Association, of which Bates is a member. This organization is for the promotion of inter-collegiate Outing Club relationship and advancement. It is to be noticed that Bates rates second only to Da .. in its activities, organization, and number of members in all New Engla

Plans for selecting members for the Board of Directors have been made during the year; these plans should function even better in future organizations.

During Freshman week of the Fall of 1932, the Varsity Club held a reception in Chase Hall for the incoming class. Arn Adams gave an interesting picture of his experiences on the coast as an Olympic contender, with the remainder of the evening a means for the new men to become acquainted with the college athletes, thus serving to introduce the typical Bates spirit and traditions.

The new year began auspiciously with an enrollment of 29 members. The first meeting was held on November 16, 1932, and was primarily for the division of Freshman deficients among the club members in order that help might be given. Capable assistants in each course were recommended.

The Club was instrumental in bringing about a new amendment to the Athletic Council constitution, abolishing service letters except in case of injury to a worthy player and then only on the recommendation of the coach. This amendment was subsequently passed.

Back-to-Bates night was a great success this year, as in former years, with many of the alumni returning. Reunions were held after the speaking was over and refreshments were served.

In December, 1932, 28 new members were admitted into the Club thus making a total of 57 active members, the largest Club membership in years. On the following night, Ollie Cutts and Sam Kennison, '31, were the guest speakers at a banquet for the new men and provided an interesting and enjoyable evening.

All club members, excepting track men, who were in Orono, aided as team guides, ushers, and timers in making the annual Bates basketball tournament a great success.

The Varsity Club did not entertain possible sub-freshmen so lavishly, as in former years, due to the curtailment of independent financial backing, entailing the loss of concessions at the basketball tournament, but a few prep and high school teams were entertained in an attempt to interest them in Bates and give them an insight into campus life. This is done to entice the proper type of young men desired for entering classes and the perpetuation of Bates' high standards.

A faculty adviser, Brooks Quimby, was chosen for 1934 in order that the Club may be more in harmony with faculty and administration policies. The Varsity Club was founded primarily to further the development of college athletics but is ever trying to initiate new enterprises for the betterment of the college, thus adding prestige to the wearers of the varsity "B", earned only in intercollegiate competition.

The Club dance was held in Chase Hall on the night of March 30. The 40 couples attending pronounced it a great success.

OUR COACHES

Men of Bates are indeed proud and fortunate to have as directors of their sports so fine a group of men. Not only do they capably fill their positions as coaches but serve, as well, as advisors and genuine friends to all who come in contact with them.

The last practice was over. The cleat-torn gridiron lay silent and deserted. At the lower end of Garcelon Field, in darkness and driving rain, huddled a group of football men. Then . . . Captain Berry . . . a torch . . . and the old dummy burst into flame.

". . . and as sophomores you won the State Championship, and too, gave Dartmouth a splendid fight; as juniors you lost only one State game, and gave Harvard a great battle; and during this, your last year, you startled the country by out-playing and tieing Yale. Those are some of your football highlights. You have had many thrills. You have won admiration at home and abroad. In defeat you have failed to alibi, and have kept your chins up. Great!

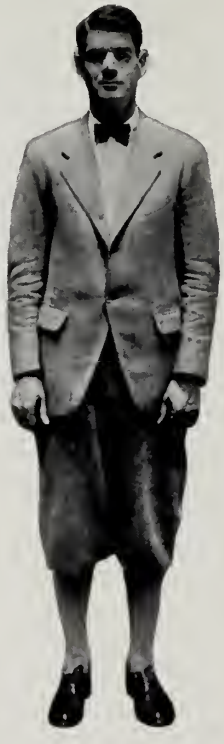
Personally, I am deeply grateful for my many hours of companionship with you. It has made my life richer and fuller. As you look back over these years it is not the victories — the scores — that you will remember, but a genuine affection reared through association and companionship with each other while doing together those things which call upon all that is real and good in you.

Seniors, the burning of the dummy signifies the close of your work. In this tradition there is for me both sadness and joy. With one hand I regretfully say goodbye to you as Bates football men, and with the other I joyfully welcome you as members of my All Time Big Team."

Coach Dave

With the closing of college each year, we all look forward to a vacation of complete relaxation; however, the joy of that thought is overshadowed by the consciousness of the yearly departure from our midst of those men with whom we have been associated in sports. They have played the games and have enjoyed the glories of both defeat and victory. Being side by side in the thick of battles has made them more conscious of the deep affection for each other. Nothing, do I consider, offers the same possibility for creating close, lasting friendships as those formed through athletic contests. Just when these men have found a lasting place in all of our hearts, they must separate, never to reappear as a unit. I wish each of them a full, rich life of happiness and success and I hope, also, that they will often honor us with return visits.

Coach "Buck" Spinks



One of the fine things about track is that the nature of the sport lends itself toward the most pleasant relations both with the members of the squad and with opponents. Being a year-round activity, there is a long period in which to form close friendships; the same opponents are often met several times a year in friendly rivalry.

Every June sees the departure of a group that has been through many long seasons. Some have been stars whose names will remain for years in the minds of fellow students and in record books; others have contributed more modestly to point scores; still others have played the game and have done their best — which, after all, is the most worth while and the most enduring.

Scores are soon forgotten but memories always remain. May they be most pleasant to the men of 1933.

Coach Ray Thompson

Although it may seem a bit far-fetched for one who has been in the coaching "game" only a short time to explain the reactions and experiences of a coach, yet it is hard to refrain from expressing the feeling of satisfaction and comradeship that the work of these few months has produced.

It is even more comforting to have had such pleasant relations and such a fine response from former team-mates. Is it not true that the memory of those personal associations and friendships will outlive the memory of games won and lost?

To the men of '33 only this:

"May you give your best to life as you did to college."

RAY MCCLUSKEY

Although the Winter Sports Team has not been as much in the 'campus eye' as has the football or track team, nevertheless I feel that the men of the Winter Sports Team deserve just as much credit as the men of any other team. They trained hard, kept in good condition, and were all set for the snow when it did come.

Our two informal meets uncovered valuable material for a nucleus around which to build a championship team next year.

My associations with the team have been most enjoyable and the friendships we have formed mean a lot to me.

BATES' 1932 football season was at the same time a remarkable success and a disastrous failure; a success in that a well-coached football machine sprang into the headlines of the sport world in its second game of the season when a highly touted Yale team held it to a scoreless tie; disastrous in that during the remainder of the season, a devastating series of injuries made it impossible to put on the field a well balanced aggregation. Nevertheless, despite major handicaps, the team showed the same spirited aggressiveness and sparkling technique that has characterized Morey-coached outfits in the past.

Although suffering from ill-health that was to confine him to the hospital for months after the wear and tear of a nerve-wracking season was over, Coach Dave Morey's keen understanding and fine humor kept the spirit at a high pitch in spite of several setbacks that could not be checked up to anything but the breaks of the game.

In his own words: "In nineteen years of coaching, I have never met such difficult conditions in so far as injuries are concerned. In the Arnold game we lost King for the entire season and McCarthy. We lost Wilmot in the Yale game. At Tufts we lost our only experienced quarterback, McCluskey, for the season, and Murphy, Stone, and Soba. We faced Rhode Island with seven of our regulars out of the game. In the Maine game we lost two right ends, Italia and McLeod, for the balance of the season. Soba, a veteran guard, was still out of the game and not ready for Bowdoin. At noon on the day of the Bowdoin game Gilman, the other regular guard was taken to the infirmary suffering from a stomach ailment. Murphy, Dobravolsky, and Gay played only a part of the game due to injuries. Fuller, lost to the team three days before the Colby game, with Soba still in a bad condition, forced us to play a tackle at right guard."

At Rhode Island the team played rugged football though weakened by the loss of seven regulars, and scored in the first six downs of the game. Against Tufts and Colby the team lost under conditions which cannot be described as other than miserable.

Pricher was a constant offensive threat to opponents, and at Yale received All-American mention from the Associated Press. His performances were made possible by the excellent blocking of Moynihan, McCluskey and McCarthy in the backfield and by Gilman, Italia and McLeod in the line. The loss of McCluskey, whose fine quarterbacking was an important factor in the showing of the team at Yale, occurred in the Tufts game. His steadying influence and coolness under fire were sadly missed during the remainder of the season. The continually vicious tackling of Knowles made him easily the outstanding defensive back in the state. His work in the last few minutes of the Yale game and during the entire Maine game was especially noteworthy. Dobravolsky, Italia and McLeod were the outstanding ends, playing hard, fast "heads-up" football. Berry and Stone defensively were "untoppable tigers." Taylor, Gilman and Fuller were most effective at the guard positions; Clemons was always master of the center position and played throughout the season with out substitution.

Arnold, Garcelon Field, September 24

Bates opened its season September 24 with a 12-0 victory over Arnold College of Connecticut. A rather large crowd, including many undergraduates who were lured back to the campus days before the official opening of college, witnessed the 1932 edition of Morey's Bobcats, resplendent in their new scarlet uniforms. After two long weeks of work on fundamentals the boys were on edge for any sort of opposition. Three full teams in alternation used but a few simple plays in taming a stubborn Arnold club. Bates looked particularly impressive on the defense, easily frustrating all of Arnold's attempts to make yardage. The first touchdown came after a long drive down the field when McCarthy circled his own left end and scored in an upright position. The second was registered in the second half when Gilman fell on the ball after the middle of the Bates line blocked a punt. King and McCarthy were taken from the game, the former with a badly twisted ankle and the latter with a wrenched knee. Clemons was chosen by Coach Morey as captain for the day. The game was the first played on the newly-renovated field. During the vacation Garcelon Field had completely changed; the diamond had been removed and sod had been carefully laid so that Bates now has perhaps the best playing field in the state.

Yale, New Haven, October 1

A scarlet-jerseyed Bates team swept into the Yale Bowl and before a crowd of 20,000 Eli rooters, it lived up to the expectations of its supporters by pushing a highly touted Yale team back deep into its own territory, and by threatening to score at least three times during the game. In the last quarter, the Yale coach in desperation, sent into the fray his lightning-fast pony backfield which succeeded in getting the ball to the Bates two-yard line through a series of penalties and some brilliant rushing. This thrust was hurled back by the wearied Bates warriors so fiercely that in the last three plays of the game their opponents lost ten yards.

The Bobcat team executed their plays with pep and precision, and on the defense the fast charging forward wall was impenetrable. The secondary defense played a fine game, and any Yale back who succeeded in getting to the line of scrimmage was stopped short by a hard hitting back. The blocking and running of the backs on the offense was superb, and carried out with all the dispatch and efficiency of a highly geared football machine.

In the first quarter the Bates team immediately took the offensive and before the quarter had scarcely begun had battled the Yale eleven back into their own territory. Through the fine running of Pricher and the equally fine blocking of Moynihan on the ends, a long thrust ended on the Yale nineteen yard line when Stone attempted a drop kick. Again in the fourth period Pricher got periously close to the Yale goal line in a 38 yard sprint. Had he not been so exhausted by his previous efforts it seems likely that he would not have been overtaken from behind. Again at the beginning of the second period, Moynihan surged twice against the somewhat ragged Eli line and took the oval to the Yale six yard line where the Yale defense held. The Elis were in the last ditch and fought with glorious Yale tradition to keep an unsoiled slate.

The famous Joe Crowley was just another fullback to Bates, while play after play was sent through the territory assigned to the All-American tackle and Yale captain, Wilbur. Frank Italia, right end, played an inspiring game before the folks from his native state. The work of Tubby Stone was a highlight as was that of Berry, captain for the day. Clive Knowles, a converted fullback, did stellar work on the defense. Eddie Wilmot, after playing a remarkable game, was removed from the field with a badly cracked rib which confined him to the infirmary for the major part of the season. Joe Murphy played a fast, sterling game at end and was forced out of the game with an injury late in the second half.

Bates supporters will never forget the gallant goal-line stand put up by the Garnet when Yale, after a long march down the field, lost the ball on downs within the shadow of the goalposts. Impartial spectators and even Yale supporters joined the large crowd of Bates backers in their praise for the team that had proved itself the superior of a great Yale team.

Tufts, Medford, October 8

Showing the results of their battle of the week before, the team displayed power and aggressiveness in a long first period drive and then folded up to a combination of inspired, heads-up playing of the Tufts team and some of the worst officiating of the season. Bates outrushed the Jumbo team three to one, but punted badly and was the victim of some bad breaks. Perhaps the outstanding feature of the game was the punting of Grinnell, Tufts end. Clayman and MacMahon did the brunt of the carrying, while Oliver and Cochrane sparkled in the Jumbo line. Bill Pricher was a marked man as a result of his fine work at Yale.

McCluskey, first-string quarter, broke his leg and was lost to the team for the remainder of the season. Soba was removed from the game with a badly-wrenched knee that kept him out of uniform for three weeks.

Except for a sudden 35-yard run by Lenzi, sophomore back, in the second half, the Bates offense failed to click in its potential form. It was distinctly a Tufts day in an anti-Bates atmosphere. Final score; Tufts 14 — Bates 0.

Rhode Island, Kingston, October 15

Undesirous of displaying any of its offense to a group of scouts from the Maine colleges, Bates coasted to an easy victory over Keaney's scrappy Rhode Island State outfit. The Bobcats had little trouble in spending the entire afternoon in Rhode Island territory; after a first period touchdown by Dick Secor, a halfback converted from a tackle, the Garnet merely toyed with the pale blue-clad warriors and was satisfied in playing a purely defensive game. Practically all the players who made the trip saw action that was vital, with the State Series only a week away. King, McCarthy, McCluskey, Wilmot, Soba, Stone, and Murphy were all left at home to allow their injuries to heal. Score: Bates 6 — Rhode Island 0.

Maine, Orono, October 22

Although displaying a superior brand of football to that of Maine, which college eventually won the State crown, the Garnet dropped a hard-fought game to the tune of 6-0. The Bates-Maine encounter was undoubtedly the best-played game of the series from the standpoint of both teams.

After sharing honors for a period and a half, Bates suddenly unleashed a powerful offensive attack that carried the team to Maine's twelve-yard line. The whistle prevented what looked like a sure touchdown for the unstoppable Bobcats. A fake line shift, hitherto untried by the Garnet, caught the Blue napping. Gay made a brilliant debut in his first series game, while Pricher repeated his work at Yale and easily distinguished himself as the foremost back on the field. In backing up the line Knowles did yeoman work.

Beginning the second half Maine took advantage of the wind and out-punted Bates, Favor's kicks proving better than those of Pricher. McCarthy and Pricher, with occasionally Gay on a spinner, did the bulk of the running for the visitors. The game was decided in the last quarter when of the nine forward passes attempted by Maine, one was completed. Favor heaved a beautiful 30-yard pass that was barely captured by Mun Romansky, who avoided the Bates safety man and scampered over the goal line twenty yards away.

After the kickoff Bates began with a vengeance and soon reeled off enough yardage to bring the team to Maine's 25-yard line, where the Blue recovered a fumble and then kicked out of danger. Valicenti, substituting for Gay, threw pass after pass in a vain attempt to score, but was smothered on every occasion.

Favor, highly-touted Maine back, never crossed the line of scrimmage for more than a yard gain, while Romansky, a master of the spinner play, was stopped on practically every occasion. The work of the Maine tackles, Craig and Pike, was outstanding, while McCarthy, Pricher, Gay, and Italia were brilliant for the Garnet.

Bates made eleven first downs to five for Maine and gained 196 yards by rushing as compared with 111 amassed by the Orono collegians. Italia suffered a wrenched knee, while McLeod was the victim of a dislocated shoulder. Coach Morey, after the game, was sincere in his statement that he was proud of the sterling type of play put up by his men. He disregarded the score entirely in the face of such an exhibition.

Bowdoin, Garcelon Field, October 29

Bates battled its traditional rival Bowdoin to a 0-0 score, in its first appearance on Garcelon Field since the opening of school. Bowdoin surprised all by fine defensive work and flashy offensive drives. The lines played on about even terms but the Bowdoin backs amassed 124 yards by rushing to 120 for Bates. A punting duel seemed to occupy the attention of the teams in a game that was rather slow and uninteresting.

On the morning of the game Gilman, star guard, was taken sick. Taylor, a rangy second-year man, did a capable job in filling the gap. Stone, although somewhat hampered by a bad shoulder injury, was brilliant in his defensive play. The outstanding feature of the game came in the third period when Hubbard, behind excellent Bowdoin interference, unreeled forty yards. He was prevented from scoring by the heady work of the stubby Valicenti, who avoided the runner's protectors and tackled Hubbard.

The game marked the return to the line-up of Brud King, whose stellar playing against Bowdoin last year will ever be remembered. The Bates offense could not seem to click when in scoring position and as a result the visitors returned to Brunswick highly satisfied with the score, having entered the game as underdogs.

Colby, Garcelon Field, November 11

In the final game of the season the Garnet gridders bowed to a superior Colby eleven 7-0. Although it was perfect football weather, Garcelon Field was in horrible shape as the result of a three-day rain. After a few plays the men were scarcely distinguishable so muddy were their uniforms.

As in the Maine game, one beautifully executed play resulted in a touchdown. In the second period Alden slipped through the right side of the Bates line, and while his interference skillfully blocked the Bates backfield men, scampered 80 long yards to score standing.

It is safe to say that for the first time in the year Bates' strong forward wall was outplayed by the heavy Mule line. Shifty running of fast backs coupled with excellent interference and blocking on the part of the line spelled defeat for the home team. It was Colby's first victory over Bates in years. Peabody of the visitors was badly injured during the encounter. Gay, too, was removed on a stretcher as a result of a blow on the head. The diminutive Chick Valicenti imitated his brother Pete by his accurate reception of punts and ability to bob up chock full of enthusiasm, after being smothered by two or three six-footers in Blue. Pricher and King, speed kings, could scarcely show to advantage due to the conditions of the field. Moynihan did well at fullback. Gorham and Swett, playing their last game for Bates, distinguished themselves in the line.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

The Freshman football team, coached by "Buck" Spinks, devoted most of the season in aiding the Varsity in its practice; their schedule consisted of two games, one with Bucksport Seminary and the other with Coburn Classical. The twenty men of the squad of fifty that received their numerals were: Stoddard and Grannan, centres; Laffin, Sherman, Brewster, and Howe, guards; Wellman, Gautier, and Merrill, tackles; Clark, Biernacki, Drobosky, and Pendleton, ends; Conrad, Cann, Curtin, Nicholson, Gallagher, Pignone, and Parfitt, backs.

The yearlings made a very creditable showing in the initial game with Bucksport; the game was played in a sea of mud and resulted in a 6-0 victory for the visitors. In the second quarter the Frosh were deep in the enemy's territory when Curtin's pass was intercepted by Hare who was brought down from behind on Bates' three yard line. Conrad's flashy offensive and defensive work, Nicholson's vicious tackling and excellent punting, and Pignone's and Cann's play were the backfield features. Wellman, Laffin and Sherman sparkled in the line, while Clark and Biernacki did fine work on the flanks.

The following week a much improved team was held to a 0-0 tie by Coburn Classical. The feature of the game was the brilliant goal-line stand made by the Freshmen. The Bobkittens completed several fine passes with Conrad and Clark on the receiving ends. Again the play of the linemen was sterling, while the backs played exceptionally fine defensive football.

CROSS COUNTRY

OFFICERS

Captain	Russell Jellison, '33
Manager	Lyman Holman, '33
Coach	C. Ray Thompson, '13

THE TEAM

R. Jellison, '33	S. Raymond, '34	S. Semetauskis, '35
R. Butler, '34	D. Malloy, '35	E. Winston, '35
G. Olds, '34	H. Norman, '35	C. Drake, '35

BRILLIANT running on the part of Captain Russ Jellison, who broke the tape first at all races in which he participated, furnished the one bright spot to the Cross Country team. While the season failed to produce any startling results, the squad made a satisfactory showing.

The season opened with but one veteran, Jellison, reporting for practice, but out of the group of sophomores and juniors who turned out, Coach Thompson moulded a fast running, strong harrier squad that proved itself no pushover in any competition. Jellison capped a brilliant running record, this year, by taking over the best that New England had to offer at the annual run in Boston.

The first meet of the season found Bates host to the strong Northeastern team October 15. Jellison, Butler and Olds of Bates finished in a triple tie for first place, after running a heady race the whole distance. Lamb of Northeastern, one of the best runners in Boston, came in a good fourth after dogging the footsteps of the Garnet trio the whole distance. The Bates boys proved too strong for the Husky runners, however, and won by a score of 24-33.

Bates and Maine ran off their annual dual for the championship of the state at Orono, on October 22, in a meet that was run between the halves of the Bates-Maine football game. An evenly balanced Maine team barely managed to garner enough places to take over the Garnet 27-30. Jellison, running a strong race, came in first, breaking the Orono course record and coming in one hundred yards ahead of his nearest competitor, Black of Maine. Butler, who came in third, and Olds, fifth, were the next two Bates men to finish. It is felt that with a little more experience and confidence, Bates could have taken this meet, as several places that would have meant valuable points were lost through lack of necessary confidence, in their own ability.

Summary: Jellison (B), Black (M), Butler (B), Earle (M), Olds (B), Shaw (M), Booth (M), Marsh (M), Jackson (M), and Raymond (B).

While Bates was finishing seventh in the New England Intercollegiate Cross Country Run held at Franklin Park in Boston, Captain Jellison was leading a rather distinguished group of harriers to the tape in what proved to be an easy victory for the fleet-footed Garnet harrier. Jellison, running easily for the entire duration of the race, showed his heels to the pack in the last stages and coasted home to a first place for the Bobcat. Butler, the next Bates man to finish, came in nineteenth, and the entire Garnet squad placed well up in the running. The team as a whole lacked the necessary finish and balance to win a run of this particular sort.

Capt. Jellison

Captain Jellison and Carpenter are the only two men lost through graduation, the rest of the squad being composed of sophomores and juniors. With a nucleus of two letter men in Butler and Olds returning, and a group of underclassmen who received the necessary experience this year, Coach Thompson can well look forward with optimism to the results of next season's meets. Other men on the squad this year were: Raymond, Winston, and Semetauskis, who, with Butler and Olds should have a successful season next year.

Robert Morrill Butler, '34, of Livermore Falls, Maine, was elected captain for the 1933 season, at a meeting of the lettermen.

FRESHMAN CROSS COUNTRY

Although the records show that little success was attained by our Freshman Cross Country team, nevertheless Coach Thompson feels that in Paul Tubbs, Damon Stetson, and Robert Saunders, he has some very good prospects for next year's varsity. In almost every race, including the Sophomore race, Paul trotted in to break the tape.

Team A won from Morse High School and Lisbon High School. By only a small margin were they defeated by Deering High, Gorham Normal and Bridgton Academy.

Team B. likewise won two and lost three of their meets.

The following men received their 1936 numerals:

Paul B. Tubbs
Damon M. Stetson
Robert E. Saunders
Leslie N. Hutchinson
William L. Small
John C. Crockett
Nils A. Lennartson
Donald D. Hill

BECAUSE of the illness of Coach Morey, Ray McCluskey, captain of the 1932 ice team, was engaged to coach hockey. Ray's success as a coach was as great as his success as a player, for once again the state title returned to Bates. Coach McCluskey deserves a great deal of credit for his work in steering the team to a championship.

Captain Joe Murphy, Bob Swett, and Ken White made up the first forward line; they were supported by Herb Berry, Dick Secor, and Frank Soba in the defense positions; Carl Heldman capably filled the goalie's cage. During the illness of Heldman the first of the season, Frank Flynn, '33 played the position and then Berry, whose work was very creditable—especially in the 4-1 win over New Hampshire. Chick Toomey, Jere Moynihan, George Mendall, Bernie Loomer, Spencer Furbush, and Howie Norman made up the second line.

In annexing the state championship Bates won four games and tied one. Murphy, Swett, and Berry are the only lettermen to graduate, leaving seven veterans available for the 1934 season.

The season opened on January 6 with an exhibition game with the fast Cyclone team of Lewiston. The Garnet, with only three days of practice, lost a 4-0 decision.

For the second consecutive year Bates and Colby opened the State Series with a tie game, 3-3. A fast overtime was played in which neither team was able to score. White, the diminutive left wing, scored two goals and assisted Swett on the last tally. Murphy, Berry, and Secor exhibited some fine defensive play.

The Garnet team journeyed to Waterville on January 24 and won a 4-1 decision over the Colby Mules. In less than eight minutes of play Ken White pushed a goal by Violette and a few minutes later Frank Soba scored another. White tallied again in the second canto and still once more in the final period. Hucks, the aggressive Blue center, scored for Colby. Berry did yeoman work in the nets, while Secor and Soba distinguished themselves on the defense.

After two postponements Bates visited New Hampshire and administered a 4-1 lacing to the Wildcats. Soba, Secor, Mendall, and White each scored. Berry again flashed in the goal, while Secor was brilliant on both offense and defense.

On February 8 Bowdoin gave the Bobcats a jolt with a 5-2 victory. The ice at the local arena was in miserable condition. For a long time the game hung at a 3-2 score; Bowdoin scored twice in rapid succession when the entire Garnet team was down the ice in a frantic attempt to score. Hayden, the Bowdoin goalie, played a fine game. Berry, too, shone in his net and was not to blame for the high score, inasmuch as he was shorn of defense men.

In the next game Colby, with two freshmen stars in Rancourt and Paganucci, turned back the Bobcats 3-1 in a fast game. Captain Murphy scored the only goal for the Garnet. Carl Heldman played an exceptionally fine game in the goal, with more than 30 stops to his credit.

In a hard and fast game at Providence, Brown eked out a 2-1 decision over the Bates sextet. Captain Murphy was lost to the team for the remainder of the season when, early in the game, he crashed into the boards and broke his leg. It was regrettable that the plucky leader was unable to lead his team to the championship. Ken White kept up his good habits and scored the lone goal unassisted.

On February 16 Bates again entered the championship race by defeating Bowdoin 3-2 in a fast and hard-fought contest. The game was a nip and tuck affair when Swett scored the tie goal. Berry proved the hero of the day when he turned in the winning marker. The entire team played fine heads-up hockey.

The following day at Brunswick, Bates won the championship by defeating their ancient rivals by a 1-0 score. Blonde Bob Swett scored the lone goal of the game in the final period. Bowdoin came back fighting hard but was held scoreless by the hard body-checking of the Bobcats. Although the ice was in poor condition the game was fast and was typical of a Bates-Bowdoin struggle. Both goalies turned in brilliant performances.

At the meeting of the lettermen at the close of the season, Kenneth Burrall White, of Cambridge was chosen to lead the Garnet Sextet for the 1934 season.

FRESHMAN HOCKEY

Coach McCluskey's Freshman team improved rapidly as the season progressed. The material, with few exceptions, was inexperienced and the task of moulding the team was no easy one. Those to receive numerals were: Butler and Merrill, goal; Stevenson and Grannan, defense; Torrey and Parfitt, left wing; Curtin and Simpson, centre; Stetson and Mann, right wing.

The Frosh lost their first game to Kent's Hill 2-1; the game was played on poor ice but speed was replaced by rugged, aggressive hockey. The visitors scored twice in the second period, while the Frosh tallied in the last. Both Butler and Merrill showed promise in the goal; Stevenson did yeoman work on the defense as he stopped rush after rush of the opposing forwards; the line of Torrey and Stetson also worked well, while Simpson played a fast game at centre.

Hebron pinned a 3-0 defeat on the first year men in the second and last game of the season; the yearlings made a good showing against the strong prep school sextet, however. The Big Green team scored all their tallies in the second period. Stevenson, Torrey, Simpson, and Grannan were outstanding for the '36 men.

TENNIS

The 1932 tennis edition turned out by Coach Tufts was highly successful for Bates. For the first time in many years the Garnet won both the singles and the doubles championships in the State Meet. Capt. Cliff Jacobs won the former title by defeating Taylor of Colby in four sets of spectacular tennis, and then teamed with Bert Antine to eliminate the field and win the latter championship.

Jacobs did not lose a singles or a doubles match in dual meets with Maine, Colby, and Bowdoin, while Antine lost only one singles match. Frank Wood, despite the fact that a strained side prevented his playing since early in the season, showed up very well in the State Meet. Both Jacobs and Antine represented Bates in the New Englands.

Capt.-elect Frank Wood and Bert Antine were the only veterans available for the 1933 season. Stevens, Turner, Paige, and Hill showed up well for the Junior Varsity in defeating Hebron, and should prove valuable to the varsity in the future. Likely prospects from the class of 1936 are Red Simpson, ex-Hebron star and Howie Buzzell, formerly of Tilton.

The traditional vagaries of the New England climate were exemplified by the treatment given the Winter Sports team at the hands of a heartless weather man. A prolonged period of thaw destroyed all possibility of holding the state meet scheduled for February twenty-second, and generally perverse weather conditions limited the winter sports season to less than two weeks of active practice. Junior Varsity meets arranged with Hebron Academy and Edward Little High School resulted, in both instances, in losses for the Bates aggregation.

Prospects for the future of Winter Sports at Bates are brightened, however, by the advent of Winslow S. Durgin to the coaching staff. Mr. Durgin is an experienced Winter Sports man, since he graduated from Dartmouth where he worked under Coach Schniebs, noted Winter Sports director.

A large and conscientious squad gives indication of general interest in winter sports activity, and plans are underway for a more complete winter sports calendar for 1934. The squad will be weakened by the graduation of three Seniors each outstanding in a different branch of winter sports: Paul Carpenter, Captain, who won 13 points in the state meet of 1932 in the cross-country, downhill, and slalom ski events; John Curtis, who took second in the ski-jumping at the same meet; and Robert A. Johnson, cross-country snowshoe man.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

The brunt of the Senior attack was carried by its forwards: Karkos, King, Pottle, and Stevens. Brud King was high scorer for the season, with Johnnie Stevens as runner-up. Paul Hayden managed to start the ball rolling in the right direction from center and played a steady floor game, dropping a basket now and then but mostly contenting himself with keeping the opposition down. John Roche and Frank Italia played sterling games as guards during the entire season.

Men who made things discouraging for the Seniors were: Lelyveld, Millett, Nyquist, Sinclair, and Dillon of the Juniors; Coleman, Kimball, Lenzi, and Valicenti of the Sophomores; Clark, Curtin, Conrad, Drobosky, and Wellman of the Freshmen.

BECAUSE of the stellar work of Captain Adams this year, an otherwise fair season was made successful. The sickness of Jellison, the ineligibility of several capable performers, injuries, and the loss of several who left school handicapped Coach Thompson in his work.

Adams, Jellison, and Kramer have been outstanding this year, with the former bringing much credit to Bates and his coach, who has predicted that Arn can break the world record in the 600.

The annual indoor meet with Maine was lost by a big score; Bates topped Northeastern in its other indoor meet by 59-40. The Bates-New Hampshire meet resulted in a win for the Durham team, 79¼ to 55¾. For the first time in years Bates showed considerable strength in the weight events, with Clark and Kramer starring. Adams' fine running and Keller's broad jumping were outstanding.

K. of C. Meet

Boston, January 28. In this meet Adams was defeated in a hair-line finish in the 600 yard run by his rival McCafferty. The former Holy Cross luminary took the race in the time of 1:15 2/5, and at the same time, the William C. Prout Trophy as the seventh winner since the plaque has been up for competition. Adams won the trophy in 1932.

Millrose 600 Yard Run

New York, February 4. Coming from behind to make up five yards in the John Wannamaker, Jr. 600 yard run, Adams snatched a victory from McCafferty. The time, 1:12.5 was only .9 of a second behind the world's record. By this victory Arn won the first leg of the trophy offered by Wannamaker.

B. A. A. Games

Boston, February 11. The Bates Two-Mile Team was led to the tape in this meet by Boston College and Harvard. The Garnet was opposed by the finest relay teams the East had to offer. The Maroon and Gold team covered the distance in the winning time of 8 minutes and 1 second; this same quartet later won the National Championship. Jellison, because of illness, and Adams, because of his hard races of the previous weeks, were not up to their usual form. Lary and Butler were the other two members of the quartet.

University Club Meet

Boston, February 18. The Bates team looked strong in the meet and placed an unofficial third in class B, with a score of 20 points. The Mile Relay Team, consisting of Lary, Pendleton, Sheridan, and Adams outran Amherst and Northeastern to set a new class record with the time of 3 minutes and 27 7/10 seconds. All the men ran well with Adams finishing fifteen yards ahead of the field — it was his brilliant last lap run, in fact, that determined the race.

In the running events Don Smith won a hard-fought race in the 880; Butler placed second. The time was 2 minutes, 3 3/5 seconds. Russ Jellison showed his usual form in the mile race; he edged Hilton of Colby in the time of 4 minutes, 37 3/5 seconds; Semetauskis placed third. Purinton placed third in the high hurdles, while Burch was defeated in the semi-finals. Both Jensen and Fireman did well in the trial heats of the dashes.

Bates-Maine Dual Meet

Orono, March 11. The annual indoor meet with Maine resulted in a victory for the blue by the score of 78½ to 38½. The trio of Adams, Keller, and Kramer garnered a total of 25 points for Bates. Maine made clean sweeps in the 50 yard dash, the pole vault, and the thirty pound weight. The biggest upset of the meet was furnished in the mile when Black led Jellison to the tape.

Kramer furnished an upset by taking a first in the discus; he also won the high jump. Adams won both the 300 and the 600, running the former race in the record-breaking time of 32 seconds. Harry Keller, '36, made his varsity debut by winning the broad jump with a leap of 21 feet, seven inches. Lary placed third in the 600; Purinton took second in the high hurdles; Smith and Butler took second and third in the 1000, and Raymond placed third in the two mile.

Webb of Maine broke the pole vault record at 12 feet, 9 inches. His team-mate, Favor, smashed the weight record, heaving the 35 pound ball a distance of 50 feet, 10½ inches.

New York K. of C. Games

New York, March 18. Captain Adams attended the meet by special invitation and wound up his indoor collegiate career and his keen competition with McCafferty. Warner of Yale won the race (the fastest 600 of the winter) with McCafferty placing second and Adams fourth.

Freshman Track

The Freshman schedule was heavily curtailed this year; the only meets were with Huntington School of Boston and Cony High of Augusta. The yearlings lost the former meet by a score of 43-25 and the latter by 47-34. Saunders, Keller, Clark, and Muskie garnered most of the points. Those winning their numerals were: Clark, Keller, Muskie, Saunders, and Tubbs. Saunders, Clark, and Keller are finds who did well in Varsity competition.

CAPTAIN ADAMS

Captain Adams was the feature of the indoor track season this year; it is expected that he will do great things in the State and New England Meets. He has shown himself a fine competitor at all times, fighting his hardest and giving his all for Bates. His races with McCafferty have been feature events in meets both at Boston and New York. Last summer, Arn was a member of the United States Olympic team; he showed up well in the preliminaries and made the 1600 metre relay team but was forced out of the main meet by an ankle injury. He has continued his fine work this year and is now recognized as one of the best 440 and 600 yard runners in the country.

Arn has received mention in the track Honor Roll for 1932. Bates, therefore, is included in a list of 70 colleges represented in the recently-issued National Collegiate Athletic Association Honor Roll. The Athletic Journal for February, 1933, has an article by John Griffith which says in part:

> "Indoors Adams runs the 300 yard for speed and the 600 for endurance. He is versatile for he does his leg of the two-mile relay in 1:57 or better, and the 220 in 21.8 seconds. He trains carefully all year, is a great competitor, and has plenty of that essential will-to-win spirit."

Adams holds the Maine state record of 49.2 for the 440 and the New England record of 48.4.

The Class of 1933 wishes to express its appreciation for the great work Arn has done and for the publicity he has brought the college. We wish him the best in the future, both on the track and in life.

PENN RELAYS

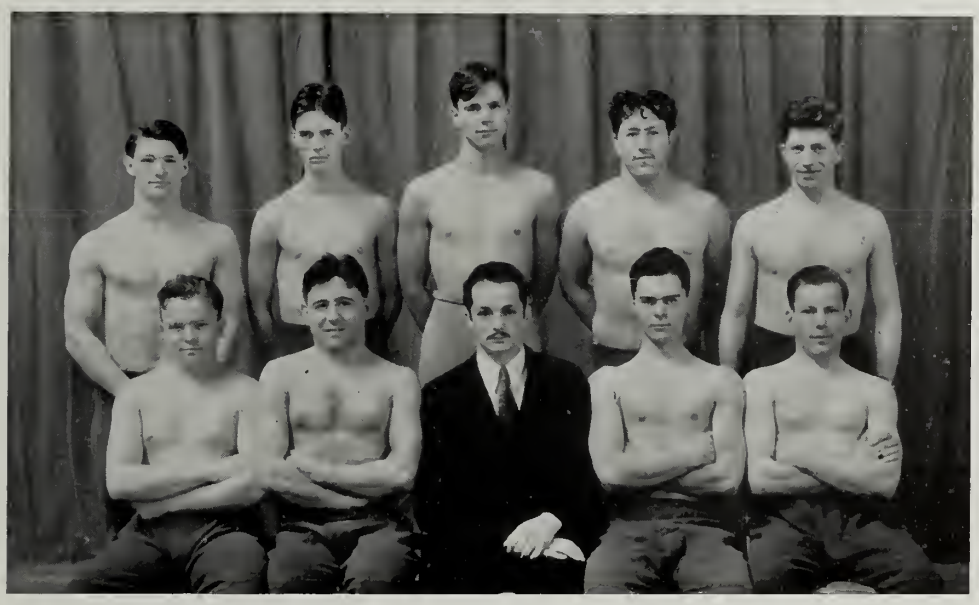
THE TEAM

Frank I. Pendleton
Bernard J. Sheridan
John S. Lary
Arnold G. Adams

Philadelphia, April 29. The One-Mile Relay Team ran the fastest race of any team ever sent from Bates, but was forced to take second to Fordham. The feature of the race was the anchor lap of Adams, who made up a handicap of 25 yards — only to be breasted at the tape by the Fordham runner by an inch or two.

Bates ran against teams from Fordham and Rutgers. Pendleton, '35, the lead off man, drew the outside lane. Getting off to a fair start he soon swung into third position, which he held throughout the race. Sheridan, '35, ran a strong race and managed to hold his position, passing the baton to Lary, '33, with a four-yard handicap. Lary held his position until the back stretch when the other two men pulled away from him. Adams, '33, as usual, ran a beautiful race and covered his quarter in 48 3/5 seconds. The time set by the quartet was 3:24 1/10.

Bates has a long record of wins at this meet. Last year a one-mile team was defeated in a close race. In 1930 and in 1928 the National Two-Mile Championship was brought back to Bates.



WRESTLING

Wrestling gained a foothold on campus soon after the end of the football season. It proved so popular that a tournament was held January 25, with 15 men competing for the six championships. The squad worked out three afternoons a week on the gym mats with unusual interest and enthusiasm. After the Christmas recess, exhibition matches were held during the halves of the basketball games. A large number of fans turned out to witness the two hours of tournament wrestling.

The winners of the tournament were: F. Wood, '33 in the 135 lb. class; L. Frangedakis, '35, in the 145 lb. class; H. Perry, '36, in the 155 lb. class; R. Anicetti, '35, in the 165 lb. class; H. Swift, '36, in the 175 lb. class; A. Carlin, '35, in the unlimited class.

The success of the new sport makes it fairly certain that it will be popular in years to come. Only Wood, Plotica, and Stevens are in the graduating class. Bruce Pattison, '33, deserves a great deal of credit and commendation for his fine work in first arousing interest in the sport and then devoting his time to coaching the men in the fine points of the art.

BILL CARRIGAN, assisted by Ray McCluskey, '32, greeted the largest squad of baseball candidates in the history of Bates early in March, to open the 1933 season. Under the keen eye of this genial veteran of many major league seasons, both as player and as manager, the squad was soon pared down to a more easily workable size. The number of veterans from last year's squad was unusually large, promising a nucleus for a formidable nine.

The game at Brunswick on Patriot's day was the first contact with out-of-doors conditions, for bad weather had confined the team to the cage. The opening was rather inauspicious, ending 8-7 in favor of Bowdoin, and, contrary to tradition, was made a state series game. "Bob" Darling, a freshman, proved himself a dependable and effective twirler. Although replaced by Millett, he could not be blamed for the loss, very poor support, coupled with weakness at the bat, accounting largely for the downfall.

On April 28, Bates played its second game, at Boston College, losing a listless affair, 10-1. Darling opened his second game for Bates but was forced to the showers by a blow to his pitching arm in the seventh. Incidentally, the blow gave Bates its lone tally as there were three men on. The team continued in the doldrums as far as hitting was concerned, garnering only five hits off Roy, the B. C. pitching ace.

In the Tufts game on April 29, Bates came out on the short end, 9-5. Millett hurled a fine game but was accorded poor support. Toomey got the longest hit of the game, a clean triple down the first base line. Sherman, a freshman, showed considerable promise with two solid hits, one a two-bagger. Tufts used three hurlers, the ace of the staff being called in in the seventh to stop a determined Bates rally.

Although Toomey opened the game at Maine on May 3 with a home run and followed with another two innings later, his work was the only outstanding feature of an all-Maine day. Millett was pounded hard and gave way to LaVallee whose slow ball pitching was very effective for the last three innings.

On May 4 Bates played Colby at Waterville in very unfavorable baseball weather and lost out in the ninth inning, 9-8. The game was hard fought, Bates taking the lead in the seventh, 8-6, but losing it in the eighth and ninth on costly errors, and timely hitting on Colby's part. The Bates nine uncorked a ten-hit barrage but just fell short of giving Darling a hard-earned game. the first inning with two runs. The Bobcats tied the count in their half with a single by Swett and a home

Bates opened its first home game on the temporary diamond with its sixth straight loss, 5-2. Colby opened the first inning with two runs. The Bobcats tied the count in their half with a single by Swett and a home run by Merrill, but loose fielding and scarcity of hits prevented the redemption of three more runs which the Colby team made.

The first win of the season was registered on May 12 when the Garnet downed Maine by a 7-6 score. "Hank" LaVallee pitched a fine game and was given good support both at bat and afield. Swett led the attack against Hall with three hits. Toomey executed a double play for the fielding gem of the day.

"Bill" Carrigan

Bates is thankful to Bill for the fine spirit of sportsmanship and the love of the game he has displayed by offering his services for friendship's sake. He has made a lasting impression on all those with whom he has become intimate on the field of play—an intimacy which one may proudly recall in the future.

W. A. A.

The W. A. A. Board started its activities this year during the first week of classes with Sportland Tour for the Freshmen. This method of introducing the entering class to the sports offered by W. A. A. was inaugurated last year and bids fair to be a W. A. A. tradition.

A few weeks later, fun was provided for all the girls in college in the annual Hare and Hound Chase. An outdoor supper, stunts, and singing at the end of the trail made this a lasting success.

The Board did its first social entertaining of the year on Back-to-Bates Week-end when it sponsored a tea in Chase Hall after the Bates-Bowdoin football game.

The W. A .A. formal banquet early in January afforded another high spot for the year. Toasts were given by a girl from each class and the members of the Physical Education Department.

A feature of Games Week this year was a Girl Scout Course given under the direction of Miss Marjorie Puddington of the New England Girl Scout Training Course.

A Health Week, Play Day for the neighboring High Schools, mid-year cocoas, and a mid-year cabin party complete the full program which kept the Board on the alert throughout the year.

But it was not all work and no play for the Board, Early in February, six delegates and Miss Fisher went to the University of New Hampshire for the annual Intercollegiate Play Day. While there, they extended an invitation to the colleges represented to hold the Play Day at Bates next year.

After the results of the spring election had been announced, a cabin party was held at which the old Board said goodby and the members of the new Board were welcomed to their positions.

Late in the spring a house-party for both the old and new Boards provided not only a good time for all, but an opportunity to talk over the plans for the coming year as well.

The big project for the year has been to establish even further the success of the Garnet and Black System which was started in 1931-1932. Under this system, the former much-rivaled inter-class games are replaced by games between a Garnet and a Black team within each class. Now the rivalry is for points for the Garnet and Black divisions and many more girls can make the teams. Under this system, W. A. A. feels that it has fulfilled its aims of "a girl in every sport" and "play for play's sake".

Professor Walmsley

Professor Walmsley is the sort of person who just abounds with energy for she is always ready to launch forth on a new project and is keenly interested in any student question on campus. She is the kind who is every ready to help, whether it is taking provisions to Thorncrag, getting a stubborn fire to burn, or showing just how to scoop that hockey ball properly. W. A. A. would be lost without her enthusiastic ideas and her fine coöperation in carrying on its year's program. All in all, Vim plus Vigor plus Vitality equals "Professor."

Miss Fisher

Miss Fisher was new to us all this fall, but it didn't take us long to discover her warm, genuine friendliness. Is there any one who doesn't know that contagious smile?

She works whole-heartedly for every W. A. A. project and brings the spirit of fun into any class.

A cheerful friend, a sympathetic helper, and an enthusiastic sport—that is Miss Fisher!

Partially as an aid to the Physical Education Department, and partially as an aid to those girls who will soon be looking for positions, the W. A. A. has sponsored, during the past two years, a student coaching project. Different girls are appointed to coach a certain activity during the A. A. period, and thus they gain experience which will be helpful to them after graduation.

The project has been very successful and doubtless will be carried on as a permanent tradition, for it proves to be mutually beneficial to the girls and to the department, in that it gives them time and opportunity to carry on an even more varied program.

One of the highest honors which W. A. A can confer is the presentation of the white sweater with the garnet "B". The sweater is given not only for athletic ability, but also for the additional qualifications of sportsmanship, interest, scholarship average of at least 75, and a posture of B grade. It is thought by some to be a change for the better that athletic ability should not be the only consideration. Whatever one's opinion on this matter, it is interesting when we see a girl wearing a white sweater to know the basis on which it was given.

GARNET

Ruth Johnson, Manager

Hockey was an unusually successful season this year. There were enough girls out to make two teams in each class and Garnet and Black rivalry ran high. In the two lower classes the Garnets came out on top, but the upper-class Blacks held down the Garnets. In the big Garnet and Black game on Armistice Day the Blacks proved their superiority and won with a final score of 3-0.

HIKING

Although hiking has no great number of participants, those who do take it have enough fun to last all the other seasons through. There have been supervised 55-minute hikes twice a week; then, for those who took hiking for W. A. A., an all day trip out to Sabattus cabin. This was the climax to a season of fun, and all vote for an annual trip to Sabattus every year. W. A. A. plans to have Nature trips for the hikers, maybe a "weenie" roast and a short picnic party. The river-bank is still an alluring hike, and for Freshmen there is no better way to see Lewiston than on these afternoon walks with an upperclassman along to point out famous locations. You can't go wrong if you take hiking!

ARCHERY

During the warm Spring days, one sees many cars drawn up beside Rand Field, with people looking intently in the direction of Mt. David. What is the attraction? The Bates "Dianas" are shooting the winged arrows. They do make a pretty sight although their aims are not always accurate! Seven of the girls entered the National Archery contest called the Telegraphic Tournament. The total score was 140, somewhat low in comparison to many colleges, but we're proud to think they did so well.

Volley ball proved to be more than exciting this year. The classes were popular, and there were many applicants for positions on the Garnet and Black teams. The Freshmen, although new at the game, had enthusiastic and well-organized teams, the Garnets coming out on top. Among the Sophomores rivalry was even keener, for the Blacks were determined to beat the Garnets who scored over them last year. And beat them they did, although the score was very close. The Blacks were handicapped in the Junior class by lack of numbers, and the Garnets easily defeated them. Perhaps the most intense interest was felt in the final Garnet and Black game, the teams being composed of the best players of each class. The score was very close until the end, when the Garnet secured the victory.

The baseball games took place during class periods between the Garnets and the Blacks. The Blacks seemed to have the edge this year and took most of the games including the big Garnet and Black. Enthusiasm ran high, and everyone made efforts to learn what it was all about—whether her particular genius made her an infielder or an outfielder. Our season, taking place as it did in the cage, was uninterrupted by rainy days, and we all counted heavily on the fun made possible three hours each week in playing the national game. This all too short period gave us the knowledge necessary for the greater understanding and enjoyment of baseball.

Another year when our hopes for a real Maine winter were not realized! However, we made the best of the snow and ice that was sent us so that we had the usual number of Winter Sports enthusiasts out to make the season successful, in spite of its limitations. At the close of the seaon the class Garnet and Black teams were chosen from the best results in the preliminary trials. Although the weather prevented skating competition for varsity Garnet and Black, a snow sports Garnet and Black varsity team was chosen from the class team members holding the best records in ski and snowshoe events.

The class games resulted in victory for the Blacks:

Juniors	Black, 2—Garnet, 2
Sophomores	Black, 3—Garnet, 1
Freshmen	Black, 3—Garnet, 1

The Garnets showed their power by defeating the Blacks 3-1 in the varsity Garnet and Black meet.

The schedule of games was disarranged this year by various conflicting events, so that each class played one game instead of three. Interest did not lag on this account, however, and all the games were well-played. The big Garnet and Black game was especially fast and closely fought. The Garnets won this game 36 to 26, and won two out of three of the class games. They defeated the Blacks in the Junior class 57 to 31, in the Sophomore class 26 to 16. In the Freshman class the Blacks won 35 to 21.

The Freshmen showed especial ability and interest, with fifteen eligible for the teams. The Seniors, whose three practices a week are all voluntary, also had a good delegation.

TENNIS

This year tennis has been in the form of elimination tournaments. In the Spring there were singles and doubles tournaments, the finals being played on Play-Day. Spring tennis is for advanced players, and much keen interest and fine playing are displayed. Spring tennis is open to all girls.

The Fall tournament is open to those in the tennis classes. There are three elimination tournaments, advanced, intermediate and beginners. Tennis is run on the Garnet and Black System as much as possible, the winners adding points to their side.

TRACK

A few track enthusiasts got together last spring and tried to down some records in friendly rivalry. Competition was keen, and records tottered alarmingly as each girl strove to better herself in her particular event. The team members also strove to attain some degree of proficiency in all directions with the result that many a high jumper discovered that she could run. No big meet was held, but each tried to better her performance as an individual. Plenty of new talent was uncovered so that the material for next spring's team makes the outlook particularly hopeful.

Women's Physical Education Demonstration

A better-than-ever physical education demonstration took place on the evening of Thursday, March 16, in the Rand Gym. It was, as usual, in the form of competition between the Garnets and Blacks. This year the Blacks triumphed by the close score of 10-9 over the Garnets, who have been victors for the past two years.

The demonstration was given on Wednesday afternoon for the high school and grammar school girls of Lewiston and Auburn, as well as on Thursday evening for the general public. Both performances were witnessed by a large and enthusiastic audience.

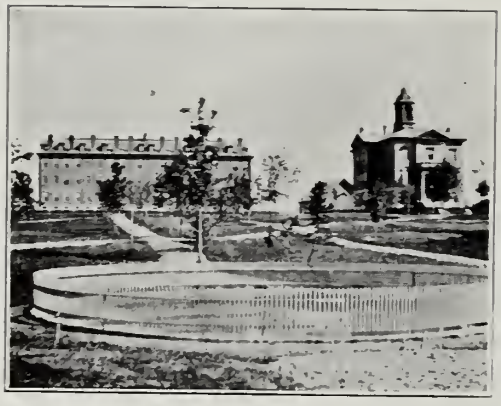
BATES OARSMEN TO CALL IT "A SEASON"



Famous "Bobcat Boldfish Gowl," Training Pool of the Crew

It rained, and rained, and rained, and Lake Andrews promoted itself from a mere trickle to a sizeable puddle, all of which gave the boys an idea: somebody called the members of the crew out for a workout.

Notices appeared on the bulletin boards, on dormitory doors, on trees, imploring all experienced rowers on the campus to come out and row for dear old Bates.

Overflowing with that pioneer spirit which has been the life of every sport in its early beginnings, two loyal sons of Bates turned out, bringing their own oars. They improvised a shell, consisting of boards formerly belonging to the hockey rink. On the shell, they placed ex-soap boxes left over from Professor Gould's late campaign for the position of alderman. On these boxes they sat, and rowed the length of Lake Andrews, for two days.

Plans were just about developing, and hopes were running high, when a sudden change in the weather cancelled practice, indefinitely. Bates still hopes, but may never have a crew again.

In the meantime, during the few hours spent in the water, the crew managed to elect one Abbott Smith, a transfer from Harvard, where he saw the Crimson crew at work several times, coxswain. Another cosmopolitan lad, Horace Yudkin, who has had experience attending four colleges before coming to Bates, was conducting a campaign for the captaincy of the crew, when the disappearance of the water postponed the crew's activities.

The members of the crew decided not to ask Director of Athletics Cutts for any money for uniforms, but to use peach shorts with green silk decorations as their official uniform.

Ray Thompson offered his services as coach for the crew until the time when Dave Morey is well enough to include rowing among the list of major sports under his supervision. Another faction on the campus thought that the coaching job ought to be shoved onto one of the regular professors instead, and R. R. N. Gould, Rotarian, Alderman, and Stanton Bird Club member, was the favorite of this group. Brooks Quimby, who once stroked the Leavitt Institute crew on the Nezinscot River at Turner, is said to have objected to this, and said that as he'd have to coach the coxswain anyway, along with his other duties as Professor of Public Speaking for Special Occasions, he might as well coach the whole blankety-blank outfit.

Tom Barnes, head of the college's supply department, was selected as official polisher of oars, and Donald McEwen Smith said he'd be the manager if they gave him some needed Physical Education credit for the job. The latter matter was referred to O. F. Cutts for deliberation and presentation to the faculty committee of athletics.

Cutts is reported to have commended the boys of the crew, saying he was heartily in favor of the move, as long as his office was not asked to dispense with any funds to conduct their regattas and things.

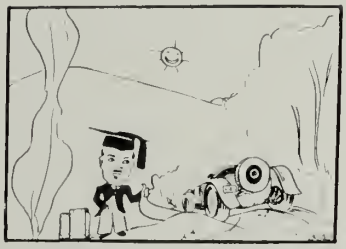
HITCH-HIKERS GAIN COLLEGE PRESIDENT

GRAY QUALIFIES AS MEMBER



The Amalgamated Association of American Hitch-Hikers, local headquarters on the shores of Lake Andrews, has notified the trustees of Bates College that Bates has the honor of owning the only college president enrolled in the organization.

Dr. Clifton Daggett Gray, Bates' prexy, "bummed" a ride from Methuen, Mass., to Manchester, N. H., on the third day of April, 1933.

It's a long story: President Gray, fresh from a speaking date in Boston, was due to perform before Manchester's Bates alumni at six o'clock, that rainy first Monday of April. Friends took him to Methuen, where he was to travel on the supposed B. and M. bus line to Manchester. They dropped the President in the town square, at the alleged bus stop, at a few minutes after two, in the afternoon.

President Gray had consulted a B. and M. time table, wherein he had read what he supposed was a bus schedule, stating that he could leave Methuen at 2:06. There was no bus. It was a train that left Methuen at 2:06, and President Gray was nowheres near the railroad station at that time.

He blames another college president, "Hoppy" Hopkins of Dartmouth, for the mix-up. Dr. Hopkins is a B. and M. power, and may, according to the Bates President, have had something to do with that time-table.

"When one college president attempts an interpretation of another college president's manuscript," something is bound to happen, according to President Gray.

Anyway, after having made inquiries in a drug store, a woman's corset shop, a chain grocery store, and having interviewed a presumably respectable citizen of Methuen who was occupying space on the sidewalk, the President realized that there was no other respectable means of getting to Manchester until too late for his engagement. Therefore, he made his way to the right hand side of the highway leading to Manchester, at which point a gentleman accosted him, and asked if he knew the road to Manchester.

"I know the way," shouted President Gray, who proceeded to enforce his company upon the motorist. The President claims they made Manchester in record time—in fact, in so much record time that the President had time to accompany his benefactor to various shoe shops in Manchester where this gentleman looked for employment. It was a lot of experience for even a college president to gather in a day. And on account of all this, President Clifton Daggett Gray has become the first "hitch-hiking" college prexy in the country—well, in the state, anyway. V. B.

EXTRACT FROM "THE GAWNET"

HOW BLITHELY AT TWILIGHT . . .

On the 21st of September, 1911, Osborn in the town of Barry, Vermont. My father had been a Pattison, N. J., barber and my mother an Ogden, Utah, milkmaid; I'm the mystery of their meeting.

We lived, at the time, in a little house next to a Littlefield. It was on this very field that we boys were wont to play baseball; I was the captain one year and played second Bates. At one end of the field, too, did I spend many hours at the break of Gray, Milliken our two cows.

I can remember my youth quite vividly. My sister and I used to Cheney up a Burch and swing off—often landing on our be*Hinds*. Another of our favorite pastimes was the game of cops and Roberts, which, after all, was but mere Childs play. Then mother would call to us at play about six o'Clarke: "Yoo Hoo (and the echo in La Vallee would reply the same), Hayden there, you haven't Hedge your dinner yet; hurry children. And we'd hurry home to find father and mother waiting for us at the table.

And if father was hungry, do you think he would simply chide us for our tardiness —like Kelley Wood; on the other hand he'd whale my Karkos, for he had a good old Irish temper. And I'd try to explain that sister had hurt her leg and that I had to Carrier home, but it made no difference to him; he'd just give me an extra whack on the Beane.

But we'd soon be Merry again and would sit down to a sweet dish of Ham and eggs that simply Simard in the plate, after which came Ma's special desert which was lemon*Morong* pie—you know the kind: "the Moyer eat the Moyer want." I can just picture myself Eaton it now.

Then one day the tedium of the quiet life at our home was broken by the arrival of my big brother James. Since graduation from Bates-College-by-the-Mountain in aughty aught, he had knocked about the country considerably. He had been a Fireman in New Britan, a Fisherman on the St. Lawrance, a Stuart on a boat, and finally a Carter in Arlington. He was now a successful Bond salesman.

I remember as if it were yesterday: how joyfully I *Rand*own the steps to meet him—how splendid he looked in his shiny, black Derby—how a strong gust of wind blew it off his head and down the street—how I had to Chase it—how it was blown right into a mud Pottle—how he vehemently exclaimed "Good Lord"—how he recovered himself and soon admitted no Harms done—and how he caught cold from exposure.

Then he came into the house and exposed himself to the admiring view of the household. And how polished he was ! and what Curtisy and de*Coram* he exhibited ! And he had even brought a gift of a new gingham gown for mother for, he explained "Wimmer do get weary, wearing the same shabby dress."

To make a long story short, James' cold grew worse practically over night. The next day, in fact, he had to Bellcau his nose every minute. And when I asked could I sing him a Xmas Carroll he said, "Yes, Dumais," as if he had a clothespin on his nose. So I sang him "Holy Night" and was about half way through when Ma yelled out, "Great Scott, stop that; it Cutts me to the spine." I was temtped to answer, "I Wilmot" had not my brother admonished me to "hurry up and get Frew."

The next day (while my brother was taking a Knapp) for want of nothing better to do, I began to throw cock-Roches down the Seward. It was while looking down the waters of the Seward that the thought came to me "What have you accomplished in life? Nothing! Run away and become famous like your brother."

My mind was made up in an instant; without stopping to say Goodbout to anyone I left Barry without a Penney in my jeans. I bummed a ride from a bird named Jack who drove a little Austin; he said he was from *Harris*burg, *Pennell*vania .We had been riding along an hour or so when I asked him would he take me to Boothby Harbor where I had an aunt (for I was getting hungry). He yelped, in angry reply, "O'Hara cab if you're so dern fussy" and with that he dropped me in the middle of the road.

Undismayed I Merrilly went my way until I heard a motor. I beckoned the driver of an approaching car (it was a Chandler) and asked, " Will you give me a lift, kind Sir?" To which he replied, "I Wilson," and off we went. And it wasn't long before we overtook my old friend in the Austin; as we passed him I gave hm a nice razz*Berry*.

How I made my way to the top of the ladder is a story in itself Suffice it to say that within seven years of Swett and toil I was the Dean of *Ross*in (for violin bows) manufacturers in the land. I was at the peak of my glory, in fact, when I fell in with a Gould-digger from Hollywood. And belive me she was *Adams*weet number whose one look would Melcher heart. Byron bye we were going steady and the Morey were together, the better I liked her. Then came the day when I summoned up enough courage to *Ask*he her, "Will you be mine, yes, no, or Mabee."

In tears she replied, "Oh dear one, I'm not the Wright one for you; at last I must confess that I've *Benham*ighty mean girl to you; I was only after your money." I drew myself up stiffly and rasped, "Martha (her name was Martha), when I first Sawyer you were as angel cake to me, but now 'tis the bitter end; oh *Wills*someone please take this jade from my sight. And so we parted and although we broke up with a Rowe she still Spinks well of me.

Moral: No Myhrman, Biology-nius of his sex, can cope with the Crafts of a woman.

THE BEER BOTTLE BRIGADE

OR

IT WAS TWO O'CLOCK IN THE MORN

OR

'TIS BETTER TO HAVE LOVED AND LOST. . .

OR

THE PERTURBED PROBATIONERS

It was two o'clock in the morning
And all the boys were yawning;
Nothing to do but go to sleep,
Said one of the boys, "I'll take a peep."

Out of the room he slyly went
And returned in a moment, with shoulders bent.
His face was a picture of fear
In his arms was a case of beer.

Two of the rummies caught the smell
Said they, "This looks like —",
As out of their seats they jumped —
But alas, it had been dumped.

Once again they returned to their seat
For the fumes had caused a retreat:
"No kind of a joke," one of them spoke,
"Bottles of beer as dry as coke!"

"Take them away," the drinker said
As he wiped the sweat from his heated head;
"Never in all my college days
Have empty bottles met my gaze."

Then wild yells split the morning air
As the drinkers swore and tore their hair;
Bottles flew in the morning dew,
While madmen on their trumpets blew.

Into the night the drunkards peered
Then for a second everything cleared;
There was the flag pole minus its tag—
How would the bottles look as a flag?

So up they were hoisted one by one —
There was strength enough to raise a ton;
All thru the night they dripped and drained
While the drunkards slept, their peace regained.

Now, the boys for their crime have repented;
To be Bates men they are contented;
No longer at night will they go out to get tight,
But will stay right at home and fly a kite.

Give him the Woiks, Scotty!

In the Shadow of Mount David

You have guessed wrong. This is not a scene from the World Fair, nor is it a glimpse of Broadway in the snappy sixties—it is your own Alma Mammy back in the sickening seventies. The picture shows "Ollie' Cutts returning triumphantly amid the cheers of the wild-eyed co-eds (who were given especial permission by the Dean to pose for the picture).

"Ollie" is home from a hunting trip into the jungles of Rumford; he is bringing back the Bobcat—since established as the official mascot of the school (Bates). It may be seen coyly reclining in the tonneau of the chariot (F.O.B. $3.2) which ever draws nearer to Hathorn. On the steps will "Ollie" deliver his own speech of welcome, in the absence of the president, who is hitch-hiking from an alumni meeting at Boston.

Editor's Note: the entire student body is not discernable in the picture, as two men from Houlton thought the photographer was a Rebel, of the Southern Rebels, selling round fares to Boston; they are in hiding behind the brush on the left.

To the surprise of even the donor, that is the new dormitory on the right. Aren't its velour curtains and its reception rooms quite the works?

Parker, of course, is photographed from the rear, thus accounting for the absence of the pizzola. On top of the dear old place we can see the forerunner of the Chase Crystal (one) Ballroom. At the time this was known as Parker Hall Gardens, where of a Saturday eve the eds and co-eds were wont to bow to Terpsichore. And if we take Prof. Chase's word for it, some of them did not go up there only to dance.
